"Of Grave and Increasing

Associated Press)—Speaking of the triple alliance strike announcement,
Prime Minister Lloyd George stated
in the house of commons today,
that the situation thus created was
"of great and increasing gravity"
but he still hoped that wiser counsels might prevail.Meanwhile, he added, the government was taking all possible steps to meet the emergency.Mr. Lloyd George said the government deeply deplored the decision of the triple alliance. He emphatically doubted whether a dis-

DECISIVE CONFERENCE

U. S. May Participate in Important Session of Supreme Allied CouncilPARIS, April 13 (By the Associated Press)—Decisions of the utmost importance regarding Germany will be sought by the supreme allied council at a conference to be held, probably in Paris, early in May. This conference is regarded by France as decisive, it is declared here.There is speculation in this city whether President Harding's policies, as outlined before congress yesterday,
do not foreshadow the presence of a United States representative.Marshal Foch, General Weygand and other military authorities have been holding a series of conferences at which they have discussed action which the supreme council may eventually decide upon.EDWARDS' NAME ON LIST APPROVED BY HARDINGWASHINGTON, April 13.—President Harding approved today a list of 12 new major generals and 26 new brigadiers as prepared by Secretary Weeks and it will be presented to congress soon. Clarence R. Edwards, who commanded the 26th Division in France, heads the list of major generals. His name did not appear in the list sent to congress by President Wilson, confirmation of which was held up.

WOULD PUT STAIN
ON T. R.'S NAMESen. Kellogg Launches Fight Against $25,000,000 Colombian TreatySays Ratification Would Place
Stain Upon Name and
Fame of RooseveltWASHINGTON, April 13.—
Launching the fight against the $25,000,000 Colombian treaty, Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota,
told the ratification of the pact
would "place a stain upon the name
and fame" of Theodore Roosevelt,
and would acknowledge that the United States "wronged Colombia, violated her rights and are now willing to make reparation therefor."WASHINGTON, April 13.—Continued debate on the Colombian treaty promised to occupy practically the entire time of the senate today, while the house had planned to remain in session only a few minutes. Calendar Wednesday in the house found that body without the usual routine of private bills before it and many members had planned to take advantage of an early adjournment to witness the opening game of the major league baseball season here.Before adjournment was taken, however, the house ways and means committee was expected to report out the emergency tariff bill, by agreement reached yesterday shortly after President Harding had urged the necessity for an emergency measure in his message to congress. The bill is a duplicate of that vetoed at the last session by President Wilson, except that its application is reduced from 10 to six months.Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, leading the opposition in the light over ratification of the Colombian treaty, was prepared to open the senate debate in replying to the address yesterday by Senator Lodge, in which the republican leader urged early ratification not only on the ground that it would improve this country's relations with Latin America, but because of economic considerations, as well.
Senator Lodge pointed to the rich oil stores of Colombia as "demanding" a policy of favorable action on the treaty
by the United States.NO GENERAL AMNESTY TILL PEACE IS DECLAREDWASHINGTON, April 13.—President Harding told a delegation which called on him today, to urge the release of Eugene V. Debs and all other prisoners convicted under the war-time espionage act, that he contemplated no action looking to general amnesty for such prisoners until a state of peace had been declared. The delegation issued a statement after leaving the White House in which it said the president had received it "most courteously, asking questions to bring out certain points.""He spoke of his entire sympathy with the desire of the committee to see an era of frank discussion in an atmosphere of good will established in America," the statement added, "and intimated that the cases of these prisoners for whom the committee spoke had already begun to receive attention from the department of justice."In presenting their arguments the committee cited various court decisions which they said established that the prisoners referred to were not guilty of overt acts, but merely of holding opinions which were considered as harmful.The visit of the delegation to the White House was a part of a general amnesty program carried out today by delegates representing labor, political and civic organizations in the leading industrial centers as far west as St. Louis.Similar plans to that presented to the president were made to Vice President Coolidge, Speaker Gillett and Attorney General Daugherty, while petitions bearing thousands of signatures were presented to individual members of congress.UNCOVER BIG MAIL FRAUDP. O. Inspectors Arrest Alleged Perpetrators of Defrauding SchemePeople in Many Cities Multied of Thousands of DollarsWASHINGTON, April 13.—In two arrests made here early today, postoffice inspectors believe they have apprehended the perpetrators of a colossal mail defrauding scheme by which people of this city, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Chicago have been mulcted of thousands of dollars. The persons arrested were Albert E. and Frank H. Hitchcock, brothers, residing here, and their detention was said to have followed notification from Los Angeles of the arrest there of a third brother, Horace
D. Hitchcock and his wife.
The four are alleged to have used the mails in soliciting subscriptions to a half dozen purported periodicals, which, it was said, have never been published and for other fraudulent purposes. Enterprises alleged to have been operated by them included the Argus Magazine, of Philadelphia and Washington; the Feature Magazine of Chicago, and the American Story Magazine of Baltimore and Washington.

NEW CARDINAL RETURNS HOMEBack From Rome Where He Received Red Hat—Thou-

Meet Card. DoughertyNEW YORK, April 13.—Cardinal Dougherty arrived here today from Rome where he received the red hat.The police boats John F. Hyman and Corrections, with six monsignori from Philadelphia, representatives of Archbishop Hayes of New York and a reception committee of 200 Philadelphians put out to quarantine to meet the cardinal on the steamship Olympic.
The committee had a message of greeting from Mayor Moore of Philadelphia.After the welcoming exercises aboard the Olympic, the cardinal was taken aboard one of the police boats and brought ashore where he was greeted by Archbishop Hayes.The cardinal was saluted with the blowing of whistles by steamers in the bay and found thousands of admirers assembled to greet him. They packed Battery park.As he stepped off the municipal boat that landed him from the Olympic, the whistles began blowing anew and the crowd, waving flags and banners, cheered for several minutes. It was the noisiest celebration lower Manhattan has seen since the days of returning troops.Headed by an escort of police and the police department band, the cardinal motored up town to the home of Archbishop Hayes, where he will remain until tomorrow. Hats came off as his party passed.Coming up the bay, the cardinal spoke of the generous receptions accorded his party abroad."It is good to be back in our own land in spite of all the courtesies and kindnesses shown to us in Italy and France," he continued. "From what we have seen and heard, we feel certain that conditions in the United States are better than they are in Europe."

WAGE CUTS NATION-WIDE

Union Head Tells Sec. Davis
"Turmoil and Industrial Warfare Will Be Rampant"INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13.— Wage reduction movements of employers in the building trades are becoming nation-wide, William Dobson, secretary of the Bricklayers, Masons & Plasterers' International union declared today in a message to Secretary Davis of the labor department, adding that "within a short time turmoil and industrial warfare will be rampant."Mr. Dobson's telegram endorsed legislation to compel all parties to labor disputes to arbitrate and quoted Secretary Davis as having declared in favor of this.VERDICT BY JURY
IN WILL CONTESTA jury in the superior court today returned a verdict that no undue influence was used in procuring the making of the will of Mrs. Helen F.
Carey. Mrs. Mary Josephine Butler of Springfield, daughter of the testatrix, sought to have the will set aside, and the disputed issues in the case were certified for trial before a jury by the probate court. In the will Mrs. Carey left practically all of her estate to George F. Carey, a son. The jury also rendered a verdict that the will was lawfully made and that the testatrix was of sound mind at the time of its making.CHANGE PLANS FOR

Sen. Knox Introduces Peace ResolutionArmed Men Who Attacked Cork Prison Repulsed After Bitter FightingLONDON, April 13.—Armed men attacked the eastern wing of the prison in the city of Cork last night, and were repulsed only after bitter fighting, says a Central News despatch. When the attack was launched, the military guard sent up lights to illuminate the vicinity, and soldiers on the ramparts used machine guns upon the assaults of the prison. The firing lasted for 10 minutes, after which the attacking party disappeared. One of the civilians was believed to be wounded, but there were no casualties among the prison guards.

SUES FOR LOSS OF LOVE

Suit Begins in Superior Court to Recover $50,000 for Alienated AffectionsA suit for $50,000 for the alienation of the affections of his wife, Alice Louise Galtier, was begun by Clarence Dickinson Glazier of 649 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, before Judge Franklin T. Hammond and a jury in the superior court today. The defendants in the case are Mrs. Nellie Fish Steever Whitley of 519 Audubon road, Boston, mother of Mrs. Glazier, and George Marzoglanti, Marcus Matalotta and George Melioles, proprietors of a restaurant on Massachusetts avenue in Cambridge.A remarkable array of legal talent was in court. The plaintiff was represented by Edgar L. Ryerson, Edwin M. Wholley and Edward C. Barringer of Boston. George Marzoglanti was represented by J. B. Peakes of Dunbar, Nutter & McLean of Boston. Mrs.
Nellie Fish Steever Whitley was represented by Lloyd Makepeace of Boston. The other defendants were represented by N. C. Cullinan of Boston.The plaintiff in his declaration asserts that the defendants conspired to deprive him of the comfort of his wife's society and to alienate her affections and to entice her away from her husband to take up her abode with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Fish Steever Whitley.QUESTION LEGISLATORS
IN "L" PROBEBOSTON, April 13.—Legislators of 1918 will be asked tomorrow by the legislative committee that is investigating the conduct of members in connection with street railway measures passed in 1913 and 1919 for any knowledge they may have regarding irregularities. Senator Lyman Griswold, the committee chairman, announced today that six members of the general court of 1918, when the act providing for public trustees and guarantee of operating expenses for the Boston Elevated railway was passed, would appear in the first group to be heard at a public hearing.Those asked to appear were: Edwin G. McKnight, president of the state senate in 1919 and a member in the previous year; Representatives Martin Lomasney and Martin Hayes of this city; Representative Worrall of Attleboro and Doyle of New Bedford, and former Representative John L. Donovan of Boston. McKnight, Worrall and Donovan were members of the street railway committee in 1918.Lomasney and Hayes are the legislators who from the floor of the house recently charged that members of the 1918 body had profited by the street railway legislation by buying stock of the elevated road in anticipation of the legislature's action, the purchase being financed by money obtained without security from certain trust companies in this city. Bank Commissioner Allen, who has since taken over some of these companies, made a report a few days ago, the substance of which has not been disclosed, of the legislators whose names were found on the bankbooks as having borrowed money in 1918.

JUMPED FROM WINDOW

Prisoner Makes Good His Escape at the Police StationAfter a twelve-foot jump from a window of local police headquarters, at about 6:30 o'clock last evening,
Ephraim Damphouse, 22, visited his Moody street residence, secured hat and coat, and vanished. He is still at large. Arrested on charges of assault and battery as a result of trouble at his home, Damphouse was locked up at the police station. However, as there was question as to his mental competency, he was placed in the detention room instead of a cell. While in the wash room in custody of an officer, he suddenly sprang for the window and leaped to the brick pavement twelve feet below. Before pursuit could be instituted, he had disappeared. Damphouse was on the docket for trial this morning on the assault and battery charge, but it was intended to test his mentality prior to the imposing of any sentence. Arrested by Officer Bartholomew Ryan, the defendant was held in bonds of $500.SEEK RELATIVES OF

according to the letter, was a lodger at the hotel herein mentioned and was taken sick there. Later he was sent to the hospital and died within a few days.RUMORS OF SECRET

RELIEF FOR WAR VETERANS

Galbraith Repeats Charges and Appeal He Laid Before President

Harding, Galbraith Says, Pledges Relief for Disabled War Veterans

By WHIT HADLEY

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I am going to cut the accused red tape which strangles our disabled American soldiers, or I will shock the civilized world with the scandal that I will expose."

This is the assertion of Col. F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion. I had asked him what the Legion would do in the immediate future to remedy the neglect of America's war wounded.

"In my recent four-hour conference with President Harding," he continued, "I told him the exact situation and he was greatly shocked. He gave me his hand and he said, 'Colonel, this is indeed dreadful. I will stand back of you to the very limit.'"

"I told President Harding that the treatment of our wounded, helpless and mentally affected soldiers had now become a national stench. I promised him I would write him and state frankly what the situation was. I have done so."

"The president is determined, as are we, that these soldiers shall receive at the hands of the government prompt and adequate treatment as well as decent compensation, and he will force new legislation to that end."

"We need $20,000,000 a year for four years. We need 45,317 hospital beds. For this year $15,000,000 was appropriated. We will prove that this isn't enough and that it will supply only 10,000 beds."

What He Told Harding
"Here is what I told and then wrote President Harding:

"No permanent or continuing hospital building program has been provided by the government. The result? The disabled are scattered over a thousand private hospitals without government supervision. In these hospitals there are 10,347 beds which are dimly and inflammable.

"We believe the money necessary for a continuing hospital building program to continue at least three years, should be appropriated, and the location and type of hospitals to be constructed should be placed in the hands of a committee of eminent medical men working with the surgeon general of the public health service, and that this committee should be selected from the divisions of general medicine, surgery, tuberculosis and neuro-psychiatry.

"The adoption of such a policy would permit of a scientific plan being worked out and would immediately insure that the needs be met as they arise."

Urges Consolidation

"Next, I told the president about consolidating the bureau of war risk insurance, the public health service, and the rehabilitation section of the board for vocational training. Said I:

"After unbiased study of the situation, we believe the conditions affecting the compensation, care, treatment, and training of disabled men can never be satisfactorily accomplished until these bureaus have been consolidated under one executive head."

"As the matter now stands a man

applies for compensation under the war risk act of Oct. 6, 1917.

"The bureau centralized in Washington is unable to give the man assistance in filling out his claim and this occasions endless correspondence and red tape. Ignorant men and clever politicians defeat his cause generally."

"If he is examined by a doctor acting for the bureau the doctor has no authority to determine the degree of disability of the helpless sufferer, and only a rating is given on a general average according to a fixed table, derived from the experience had by the bureau. Despite his sufferings and needs it usually takes three months to give him a rating. There are now $1,000 cases on file, of which 10,000 are over nine months old."

"In the consolidation of these bureaus it is absolutely essential that the war risk insurance be decentralized and authorized to establish fourteen regional offices and as many sub-offices as may be necessary in order that the bureau may accept its responsibility and seek out and assist the man where he may be in need; that these regional and other offices be centralized in order that a man requiring hospitalization, compensation or vocational training may receive through one organization the attention he requires. This at the same time, should reduce the work of handling the work by avoiding needless duplication of rentals for offices and personnel."

"I then said and later wrote that we are of the belief that it should be the policy of the government to provide a man who has a disability of 10 per cent and more, or who has a vocational handicap, with an opportunity to be trained—giving him a chance to become a better and more self-respecting, self-sustaining citizen. Consequently, we demand that a person with a disability of 10 per cent or more, or a vocational handicap, be immediately eligible to training which will carry maintenance pay."

"In closing I said and wrote that under the law there is no provision for the retirement of a disabled emergency officer, as is provided in the case of officers of the regular establishment, or of emergency naval officers. We demand that any officer who served in the military forces of the United States during the war with Germany and who incurred disabilities in the service, and who is honorably discharged, shall be entitled to retirement on the same terms as officers of the regular army."

"A bill has been introduced known as the Sweet bill (H. R. 16159). We want it passed because it provides for the very things I have asked of the president."

"In addition to that President Harding has been asked to designate the week of May 22 to June 4 as a disabled soldiers' week. More than 123,000 women are behind it and they plan to speed action for bills of relief."

It was also voted to contribute $100 to the Irish relief drive and there are prospects that more will be donated before the campaign ends. Chairman O'Grady, of the dance committee, reported that arrangements have been completed for the first annual dance of the council to be held Friday evening, April 22. The council will hold a musical entertainment in connection with the next regular meeting to be held in St. Peter's school hall Wednesday, April 20. NATION WIDE DRIVE

Campaign to Restore Confidence in Building and Construction Industry

NEW YORK, April 12.—A nationwide drive to rehabilitate and restore public confidence in the building and construction industry of the United States by wiping out "wasteful strife" and by uniting the various elements and interests into one big co-operative association has been launched by the executive board of the national congress of the building construction industry.

Local conferences representative of the industry are being formed in the principal cities of the country. It was announced here today at the headquarters of the congress, and it is planned to convene the first national assembly of this organization in Chicago in the late spring or early summer.

Under the national congress plan representatives of the contractors, subcontractors, manufacturers of and dealers in materials, workers in the building trades, architects and engineers are brought together into "commodity meetings" to consider vital problems confronting the building industry and inaugurate "effective and acceptable remedies."

"The industry has been a headless, inarticulate body and has suffered the consequences of the self-imposed isolation," said a statement by the executive board of the national congress. "The functions of its parts must be coordinated. Co-operation must take the place of the wasteful strife."

"Such action, if intelligently carried forward, will be in the public's interest and, therefore, must also be in the interest of the industry. The right type of co-operation under liberal leadership offers the only method of reconciling the demand of the industry for its own prosperity and the demand of the public for adequate and economical construction. Such a meeting of minds, such a recognition of common purpose, means fundamentally that the industry must organize itself as a public service, frankly assuming the obligations of a group associated with the primary purpose of supplying the public need."

The congress proposes:

"To make a scientific survey of the needs of the industry in workers and of how these needs may be met; to study the present methods of training and enlisting personnel, and to discover and correct the causes of the progressive decline in the supply and quality of workers in the industry."

To study the needs of the industry in the source of supply of raw materials and manufactured products; the quantities of such now available and to determine the national requirements of construction in 1921 and succeeding years.

Among the problems to be considered by the organization are listed the following:

How shall abundant credit resources be made available, at reasonable cost, to the industry in order that it may function in satisfying public need?

How shall the industry be led to adopt a uniform and equitable policy in bidding and with respect to contracts and conditions?

How is genuinely co-operative effort by employers and wage earners (whether the wage earners be organized or unorganized) to be substituted for the antagonism which, in the past, has checked production?

The preliminary plans for the first assembly of the national congress of building and construction industries calls for 15 delegates from each of various groups of elements in the industry—general contractors, subcontractors, engineers, architects, labor, manufacturers, investment bankers. These will be selected by the various local conferences now being organized from coast to coast.

Conferences, it was stated, have already been organized in New York, Pittsburgh, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Minneapolis, Detroit and many other cities.

There is another body working for the same object, but which, at the present time, is not associated with the national congress. This body is the national federation of construction industries, with headquarters in Philadelphia. While the objects of both of these bodies are the same, the means being used to accomplish the desired ends are slightly different.

SCHOONER MAYFLOWER LAUNCHED YESTERDAY

ESSEX, April 12.—The schooner Mayflower, built to prosecute the fisheries off of Boston and to represent that port in the races next fall for the international fishing vessel trophy, won at Halifax, N. S., last year by the Gloucesterman Esperanto, was launched yesterday. After Starling Burgess, the five-year-old daughter of W. S. Starling Burgess, designer of the craft, had christened her with a bottle of champagne, the yacht-like vessel slid down the ways into the mud of the Essex river.

She held a moment on the bank of the opposite shore, but a tug pulled her clear and started for the sea to lower her to Boston for equipment of sails and spars. But a receding tide caught her still in the creek and she was held up again in shallow water. The launching was witnessed by thousands, including Mayor Peters of Boston, Mrs. Peters, members of the city government, of the syndicate of Bostonians who financed building of the boat, and a lot of old salts from New England ports.

POSTPONE HEARINGS IN STILLMAN CASE

NEW YORK, April 13.—Hearings in the divorce suit brought by James A. Stillman yesterday were postponed until early in May. John A. Mack, guardian ad litem for Guy S. Stillman, whose paternity is questioned, refused to agree to April 20, the date selected by attorneys for husband and wife.

Mr. Mack said he would be unable to take part in the proceedings this month, and suggested that the next hearing be held May 4 and 5. This was agreeable to other interests involved.

FRANCE TO USE FORCE

Time for Words Has Passed,
Says Briand—To-Use Coercion on Germany

PARIS, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Briand in the debate in the chamber of deputies yesterday on German reparations declared: "The time for words has passed. We must now resort to acts."

The premier recalled the warnings given to Germany by the Paris and London conferences and the subsequent application of penalties, and added that the government had hoped the German government would realize that it could no longer delay fulfillment of its undertakings.

"We discern, however," he said, "that the penalties enforced have not produced the expected results. We note that there still exists in Germany a disposition to evade payment. On May 1 Germany will be face to face with a whole series of violations of the treaty which she signed."

"I repeat here, with all the strength at my command, that we creditors had a perfectly legal deed. A process server has been despatched to Germany, and if our debtor persists in refusal to pay, the next time a policeman will accompany him."

"This process is a legal proceeding as between individuals in every day life, and it is the same in relations between nations. It is no use to begin over again discussions already closed. We have in hand a preliminary note duly signed, and if the debtor refuses to pay he must coerce him by all means of coercion we have in our power."

"In full agreement with our allies, we have a rendezvous with Germany on May 1. France shall not fail that rendezvous."

M. de Lasteyrie, official reporter of the finance committee of the chamber, discussing reparations and reconstruction, said that Germany had paid only three billion francs reparations, although she claimed to have paid 21 billion, having computed to her payments the value of the war material left behind during her retreat. M. de Lasteyrie concluded: "France must be paid. If Germany refuses, France must go in herself and exact payment. It is a question of life or death."

This declaration was applauded by the entire house.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
A saucy little charm pervades the acting of Miss Ryan in "Peggy Short," the little play which she gives at the R. F. Keith theatre this week. It is an unusual little affair, more largely devoted to the delineation of the character of "Peggy" than to any plot. Rodney Harlow, almost casually young actor, appears with Miss Ryan in the piece. Gordon & Ford, makers of nonsense and music, are well to the fore in the forthrightly told, and Rome & Gault, who are literally the long and the short of it, do some very good eccentric dancing. The remainder of the bill has many high spots, including the ventriloquism of William Eba, who makes use of a strange figure; the dancing, skating of the Sterlings; the singing of the Thornton Sisters and Peck's Educated Blockheads.

OPERA HOUSE

If you enjoy a real Irish dancing contest—and regular Irish jig with an Irish fiddle providing music for the contestants, then don't miss the presentation of "Arrah-Na-Pogue." Dion Boucicault's great Irish drama which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. Large audiences have already found genuine delight and pleasure in it and indications at this time point to capacity houses at all remaining presentations. Better make your reservations at once and see James G. Bourke as the fiddler, James McGara and Johnnie Conway as the dancers. Miss Pledge is as charming as ever as the Irish Colleen and Milton Byron makes an admirable Irish patriot and lover.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Final performances of "O'Malley of the Mounted," starring William S. Hart, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be popular Fatty Arbuckle, in "The Dollar a Year Man," and Elliott Dexter in "The Witching Hour." Miss Lee, the charming leading woman who has become so popular by her portrayals in such pictures as "The Prince Chap" and "Male and Female," appears in the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Arbuckle in "The Dollar a Year Man."

The story is a novel one. The members of the Santa Vista night club, fearful that Frankie Pinney, their only playboy member, will disgrace them when the police are their guests, take advantage of his weakness for detecting plots and make a kidnapping story so that he will follow the scent and be absent when the royal guest arrives. Frankie Pinney, a club member with socialist views, who is the instigator of a real plot to kidnap the prince and turn him over to band of anarchists in a haunted house, pretends to aid Pinney.

However, the prince has managed to escape the formality of the club visit and is enjoying a walk with the Duke. In passing the haunted house he hears strange noises and believing the ghosts are pretty lively goes to investigate. The anarchistic attack him and Pinney manages to save him. Later, at the club the prince and Pinney are table companions at the banquet.

In "The Witching Hour," a dramatic story of present day life, Elliott Dexter has one of the best roles of his career. He is supported by a capable cast.

A comedy, "High and Dry," and the International News will round out the bill.

Gives Tanlac Credit For Splendid Health

T. J. PARKER
4246 Juneau Street, Seattle, Wash.

"I used to think all the Tanlac testimonials were exaggerated, but I have felt thankful a thousand times I ever believed in it strong enough to give the medicine a trial," said T. J. Parker, well-known salesman for Gately's Clothing Store, residing at 4246 Juneau St., Seattle, Wash.

"Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I thought would finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas on my stomach I could hardly get my breath. At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly endure it. My liver was sluggish and sometimes I got so dizzy I would nearly fall. I felt tired and miserable all the time, couldn't even sleep and for days at a time I wasn't able to go to work.

"Well, a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and it certainly has done a good job for me. My appetite is fine now and although I am eating just anything I want and as much as I please, my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I have picked up in weight, my strength has come back to me, and I am now enjoying the best of health.

"All the men at the store know Tanlac put me back on my feet, and I am glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

Barrymore's new role is well introduced in the picture, "The Great Adventure." It is essentially a comedy and he takes the part of the eccentric artist and is pursued by a celebrity hunter who seeks vainly to marry him. In order to escape from her clutches "Pratt Farli," the artist, hides "his identity" by posing as a dead valet and he enjoys the novel distinction of attending his "own funeral" when the valet is buried in Westminster Abbey.

Now Farli subsequently meets and marries the pretty young widow who mistakes him for the dead valet with whom she had been carrying on a correspondence for years through a matrimonial agency. How he is forced to paint and sell his pictures for a song because of this deception, how he worms his way out of the deep difficulties which confront him when the deserted wife and two sons of the deceased valet turn up to demand his return to them, and how he saves the art dealer who has been selling his pictures as originals, all constitute some of the most engaging situations in the story. And the masterful interpretations of Barrymore help to make this plot one of the most interesting and delightful stories of the season.

THE RIALTO THEATRE
Lionel Barrymore, whose illustrious career has been marked by a long chain of dramatic successes, has achieved a new and brilliant triumph on the screen in "The Great Adventure" which opened a three day engagement at the Rialto theatre Monday afternoon he is seen in the most fascinating motion picture vehicle that has ever been given him. In fact the well known screen star takes on a role entirely new to his sterner character and charms everybody in the title role of a wife dodger and comedian, thereby establishing the fact that he can change his expressions that made him famous as a star and can still be just as well liked.

"The Great Adventure" was but one of a triple feature attraction that the Rialto is showing for the three first days of the week. The other attractions include Jack Hoxie in "A Man from Nowhere," and "Cowboy Jazz," a western picture taken under the auspices of the Benevolent Order of Elks. There is also the continuation of "The Son of Tarzan," and an interesting string of Fox news. This bill presents a varied and interesting performance

Economical! Delicious!

"SALADA"

ORANGE PEKOE TEA

ECONOMICAL because it yields more cups to the pound than any other tea. DELICIOUS because it is pure and fresh. Moreover, it is sold in sealed metal packets only.

NOTHING TO DO BUT FRY!

All prepared—potatoes and everything. One can feed three husky appetites. Far less expensive than eggs or meat.

What tastes better—than Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes?

YOU know the kind—golden-brown, plump, sizzling with aroma—the kind that "down-east" folks start every one they give them to, a hankering for.

But, much as you and the family like them, you don't serve fish-cakes often, do you? A lot of bother—that soaking and picking of the fish, the boiling and paring of the potatoes, and then the mixing, and frying.

But now—at last—you can have fish cakes often as you want! Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes banish the bother!

You can have delicious, regular Gloucester fish cakes in only the time it takes you to open a can and fry what's in it.

But besides—

They're far more economical, the waste and labor considered. A can is enough for three people. Less expensive than any meal of meat or eggs.

Try them on your family tomorrow. Ask your grocer for a supply today. They're sold everywhere.

P.S.—A case (24 cans) of Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes in your pantry will save you work and will delight the whole family.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

On domestic questions, President Harding's message is clear, progressive and reassuring. On the tariff, taxation, national finance, railroads, the merchant marine, manufacturing and agricultural interests, his expressed policies are generally sound.

But in his reference to the peace treaty and the League of Nations, it is difficult to gather from the president's utterances just what his precise aims are. In one sentence he declares against the League of Nations as such, and expresses an apparent willingness to accept the treaty if it were dissociated from the league; and in another, he uses language that would seem to imply a willingness to enter the league if it were separated from the treaty, somewhat modified and called by another name.

Here is a sample of the ambiguity with which the president discussed this subject:

"The wiser course would seem to be . . . to engage under the existing treaty, assuming, of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom of individual commitments and safeguard all our essential interests. . . . No helpful society of nations can be founded on justice and committed to peace until the covenants re-establishing peace are sealed by the nations which were at war."

President Harding reneges his campaign pledge to work for an Association of Nations to promote peace; and he very properly states that the highest purpose of the League of Nations was defeated in linking it with the treaty of peace and making it the enforcing agency of the victors in the war.

The president favors an immediate declaration of peace with Germany, leaving the details to be worked out later, although he does not undertake to say just how this will be done. This message has the peculiar quality of measurably pleasing both sides in the League of Nations controversy, because of the uncertain meaning of its "involvements" in reference to the general subject.

THE PARKER COURSE

Certainly the lecture by John Kendrick Bangs, the last in the Moses Greeley Parker course, was a very delightful affair. It offered another proof that the Lowell public is partial to entertainments that combine instruction with amusement.

Most Lowell people—at least those who read the newspapers—know Mr. Bangs by reputation as a humorist and that alone was the drawing feature that packed the hall, whereas but a meagre audience attended some of the previous numbers.

Those who sought entertainment by hearing Mr. Bangs were not disappointed. The lecture was a rare treat and it has given the community a taste for more of the kind, or at least of the same high order.

The lecture also caused many to express a feeling of gratitude to the late Dr. Parker, through whose philanthropic spirit this course of lectures has been made available.

If in the initial year and given in the high school hall, the course was such a notable success, and if it has tended to enlighten the community on important topics while at the same time entertaining them, surely it can attain vastly greater success along the same lines when given, as it will be next year, in the beautiful Auditorium hall, capable of accommodating 4500 people.

In this respect, the Auditorium will be a great medium of education in that it will attract the masses of the people to such instructive lectures as that of Mr. Bangs and some of the others in the course. Thus the bequest of Dr. Parker will go on from year to year as a source of education and uplift to all the people of this city; for those who do not attend the various events get a very fair idea of them from the newspaper reports.

And this brings to the fore the necessity of musical events conducted for the general public after the manner of the Parker lecture course. The Auditorium commission has announced that it would be greatly appreciated by that body, as it would be by the city at large, if some citizen would donate a fund sufficient to provide an organ for the Auditorium, an instrument that would remain as a memorial to the donor and a source of delight to the citizens for many future generations.

Somewhere who has the means should do for music in Lowell what Dr. Parker has done through the lecture platform. A good method of starting such an institute would be to put an organ in the new Auditorium, one that would be worthy of the beauty and artistic design of the new building and all its appointments.

For the present, we may well weave chaplets to the memory of two men who loved their city and its people—Freeman B. Shedd and Dr. Moses Greeley Parker. We are confident that in the near future there will be a third, a man, or possibly a woman, who will establish a fund to be used in providing for the Lowell public musical events that will lift them above the atmosphere of the ragtime and the jazz and cause them to revel in classical symphonies and "melodies that linger in the memory of the heart." Such courses serve to educate the masses and thus to uplift the entire community and make Lowell a better city. In this work the new Auditorium will be such a wonderful instrumentality that it is not too soon to begin arranging for using its facilities for concerts and other public functions to the best possible advantage.

CIVIL SERVICE AND LABOR

If the city of Lowell wishes to dispense charity in the form of employment, we do not see that the civil service has any right to interfere. It appears that the relief demands at the Chelmsford street hospital for the past three months have been as great as the total for the whole of the year 1920. Should the city decide to employ some of the people thus supported so as to have them earn a living, would the civil service law come in to prevent such an expedient? Apparently it would and without any good reason; but of course these civil service enactments are blind to all the circumstances. The condition is to register, to stand in line and wait your turn. The city may wish to help the needy; but others are foremost on the civil service list and must be given the preference.

Any movement to aid the unemployed must, therefore, be directed to that specific purpose and due arrangements made under which those in need will have preference despite the civil service restrictions.

Apparently, however, no move such as this is likely to be made so that it is useless to discuss its probable operation. The funds are lacking; but the Chelmsford street hospital must be maintained, however expensive.

N. Y. PRESS CLUB DISGRACED

Not much worse was the man who swindled divers parties on the pretense of being the "cousin" of President Harding and having a political pull, than members of the New York Press club, who have been seeking associate members at $1,000 each on the strength of being allowed to sit at the same banquet board with President Harding. That was little short of blackmail. But the club had another scheme for fleecing men who were desirous of being listed as figuring in the world war, whether they did so or not. This was a local history dealing with phases of the war and offering a special page to eulogize each person contributing $500.

Such barefaced schemes for extorting money can be regarded only as a bunco game and wholly unworthy the membership of any respectable body of men and surely so of a society bearing the reputation of the New York Press club. We are not surprised that the decent men have left the club to the fakers who would commercialize the visit of the president. The fact that their plans have been exposed will doubtless cause President Harding to cancel his engagement to attend the club banquet.

BLOCK PAVING

There is no reason why block paving should cost ten dollars per square yard, although that price may have been reached here under unfavorable conditions. Nor is there any good reason why such paving cannot be done here in Lowell as economically as in any other New England city. Our style of block paving is probably more solid than that used in most other places reached here under unfavorable conditions and that may explain why it costs more.

AMERICANS BARRED

Trotsky and Lenin now announce that immigration from the United States to Russia is stopped until such times as a Russian envoy arrives here to give passports. That means that we cannot deport any more anarchists to Russia. In that case we must establish a special colony for their detention.

Purchasing Agent Foye has graciously adopted the suggestion of the chamber of commerce in providing that the city will not be deprived of the benefit that might accrue from any prospective reduction in the price of Portland cement. Purchase in smaller quantities seems to be the only means of obtaining that end under present conditions. Even that has its risks of disappointment.

Until the Boston and Maine railroad can afford the expense, whenever that may be, we shall have to put up with the Middlesex street grade crossing. Should a one-man car be stalled there in front of a train, the situation might be somewhat embarrassing to the interests involved and incidentally to the passengers.

Patches of blue may be discerned in the cloudy sky of business depression. A big Lawrence mill is advertising for help, and the American Printing company of Fall River, one of the world's largest textile concerns, had more business during the first three months of this year than ever before in its history.

A Boston woman insists that the pelooks, which train girls for nearly every trade and profession, should teach them home-making. Perhaps the divorce courts might be a little less active and "Home, Sweet Home" might be sung a little more frequently if the suggestion were carried out.

We may well take our hats off to the Quakers, who, without tax, days or drives for funds, are feeding three quarters of a million starving children and carrying on vast reconstruction work in Europe. Peace, indeed, has its victories no less crowned than war.

It does look as if the nation had a great acquisition in Secretary Hughes and Secretary Hoover of the state and commerce departments respectively. Moreover, each seems to be in the line for which he is specially fitted.

Two New Jersey women claim to have been in a hotel room for three years, and refused to tell the reason, but it is not believed that it was because they feared they would be asked to tell their ages.

If the Shepard-Turner bill, which would amend this state in the time of $2,000,000 for the benefit of southern states is not completely dead, then the coming session of congress should give it the finishing blow.

Their Suggestions

An unfaithful steward had embezzled a large sum and his employer asked advice as to how he should be dealt with. "Get rid of him at once," advised an Englishman. "Keep him and deduct the sum from his wages," said a Scotchman. "But," said the employer, "the sum is far greater than his wages." "Then raise his wages," suggested an Irishman.—N.Y. Hts.

A Crushing Defeat

Jones met his friend the other day and asked him how he was getting on with his landlady. "Is she any better?" he remarked. "I have heard that she's always putting it over on you," she does," replied his friend mournfully. "I believed I had cured her the other day. I bought some potatoes and before giving them to her to cook I counted them, and in a stern voice I said, 'Remember, madam, there are ten potatoes.' Dinner time came. I raised the lid of the dish, but found she had no again." "How?" asked the sympathetic friend. "She had mashed them," was the reply.

Bible Against Lightless Auto

Law founded on the bible is good enough for Mayor Gilmore of Morgantown, W. Va.

A local man, charged with not having the tail light working on his automobile, was arraigned before the mayor, who assessed a fine of $3. The accused protested, said it was a poor law under which he was fined and that he did not think it would hold water in court.

The mayor declared any law founded on the bible was good enough for him. The defendant said he could see where a tail light had anything to do with the bible. The mayor looked pityingly at the accused and said:

"Do you remember the tale about the 10 virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do, you will remember that the Lord wouldn't have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."—Los Angeles Times.

No Wonder He Had Trouble

During the war, while I was on leave of absence in Paris relates a returned soldier, I decided to take a walk alone. I thought it advisable to copy down the name of the street in which I was staying, so I wrote down some words printed on the sidewalk. When I was ready to return I found that I could not locate the street where my home was. I approached a lady, showed her what I had written in my book, and tried to learn from her where the place was. She laughed and said something in French, which, of course, I did not understand, and passed on. A number of times I did the same thing, and every one I stopped laughed, and passed on until a man said in English, "What is it you want?" Delighted to find that I had discovered one person who spoke English, I said, "That is the name of the street where I am staying and I am lost. Will you please direct me?" "You haven't written down a street name," said the man, "but 'post no bills'."—Los Angeles Times.

Sermons and Soup

From 20 to 30 young men stood before one of the Pittsburgh mission rooms, anxiously gazing at the closed door, soon to open.

"Is the gospel of the gospel savings bank?" I ventured to inquire of one on the outer rim.

"Bread and soup, Wednesday and Sunday evenings. This is the Wednesday bill of fare soup and bread."

"How about the other day evenings?"

"Other places have other evenings."

"How long?"

"Several months."

"Bread and soup and soup and bread all that time?"

"Yes, no! Sometimes I get a hotly handout at kitchen doors; sometimes the panhandling is good."

"Didn't you work when the working was top-notch?"

"During the war I made $50 and $50 a week."

"What did you do with it?"

"Bought a little and bought $50 suits, $15 silk shirts, $5 silk socks, $3 silk combinations and took joy rides. I owned 'em all long ago."

"I never made less than $10 a week."

"Well, do you think you deserve sympathy?"

"Tell with sympathy. We want sermons and soup, especially soup."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Just as She Spoke

I used to think I had to be quite careful of my grammar. And if I made a slight mistake. It made me blush and stammer.

But now I shall no longer strive to answer "It is I." And if I wish, I'll say "the don'ty" And never say an "O's."

And when asked where some one is I'll say, "Where is he at?" I'll say, "I seem" and "I have said" And "said" and things like that.

I'll say, "I laid upon the couch," And in a chair "I set." I'll say "this here" without a quail, And "here" and "thine" yet!

For common usage is the thing That grammar's hold has broken. In speaking English, mind no rule. Just speak as if it were spoken.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Your backyard garden won't be complete unless it has rows of lettuce and radishes. Especially radishes. The amateur gardener figures he has a garden if he can see the first promise of the new radish leaves coming out of the ground.

And when he garners his first crop and takes them into the house to the missus, he does it with the peace of mind that he displayed when the first son was born.

The radish originated in Asia and has been cultivated for over 5000 years. There are people today who don't care for the radish as a food, any more than some care for olives or mushrooms. But the ancients were keen for radishes. When the Greeks served feasts to Apollo in the temple of Delphi, the radishes came in all dilled up on platters of gold, while turnips and leeks were served on lowly platters of lead.

Last night I was witness to an unusual stroke of honesty on the part of a gang of boys playing in my neighborhood. About 8 o'clock my doorbell rang and on opening it I found five or six boys about 10 to 12 years—one of whom was in tears and sobbed so hard he could not tell the story of his supposed guilt, so one of the others told it for him. It seems they were chasing around the neighborhood and throwing stones, and the one who felt guilty thought he had made a mistake and broken one of my windows. It was too dark to make a thorough search so the bunch of them said they would chip in and pay the damages, and the one who felt guilty willingly gave his name and address.

I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now I feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used to say: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even the print without glasses." Another who said it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the guttering leaves on the tree across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them. It will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up, your steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or mist glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money in full if it fails to do so.

SENATOR WALSH ON MESSAGE

He Approves President's Stand on League and on Political Principles

Both Massachusetts Senators on Most Important Committees

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, democratic, commented very freely on the president's message when asked to do so by The Sun representative after the joint session closed. "What did you think of the message?" asked the correspondent.

"It was an admirable presentation of the pending policies before the administration. It is easy for a public man to approve the message of presidents and governors which enunciate general political principles. There are very few of the great political principles expressed by President Harding that I do not approve of. The difficulty arises in the conversion of those principles into legislation. Here it is possible for wide difference of opinion."

"What do you think of his attitude on the League of Nations and the Knox resolution for peace?" was the next question asked of the senator.

"I heartily agree with the program of taking immediate steps towards peace and to free us from the position of being technically at war with the powers of Central Europe," replied Mr. Walsh. "The president expressed the sentiments of an overwhelming majority of the American people on the League of Nations. It is time we established a state of peace towards the whole world and direct our attention completely and thoroughly to the solution of the momentous questions that are waiting settlement and this must be done before there can be a revival of business or general reconstruction in America."

Our Senators' Assignments

"The committee assignments of Massachusetts senators show strong and responsible positions. Mr. Lodge will not only be republican floor leader and leader of the majority, but will be chairman of the all important committee on foreign relations and also hold the ranking membership on naval affairs. Senator Walsh has been put in the foremost ranks by the democratic caucus and his assignments include post offices and post roads on which he will be second ranking democratic member. He is also high up on education, labor and pensions. Added to this a high tribute has been paid him by adding him to the greatest committee on finance which must deal with the tariff both emergency and permanent and also with any bonus bills which come before the senate."

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now I feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used to say: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even the print without glasses." Another who said it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the guttering leaves on the tree across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them. It will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up, your steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

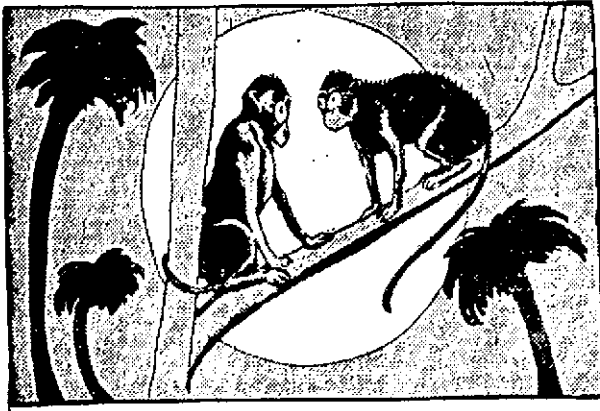

NOTE: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or mist glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money in full if it fails to do so.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"THE PALM TREE HOTEL"

ON ONE LIMB SAT TWO MONKEYS

Away went Nancy and Nick and Mr. Flippety-Flap to the island of Farthest-Ever to hunt up the monkey family.

The green shoes that the twins wore were heading straight for the ocean, which it is necessary to cross before you come to this particular place. That's one peculiar thing about any island, indeed, that you may have noticed. You always have to cross water before you come to it. You simply can not reach it by land, even the back way.

But just before they left the shore, Flippety-Flap stopped suddenly. "Tut!" cried he. "Not tut you but tut me, children. It's my fault I forgot! We've gotta go to China first."

"Why?" asked Nick, curiously. "To get some rice. Monkeys like rice."

"Wouldn't the grocery store do?" suggested Nancy.

"Grocery store?" repeated the fairman, thoughtfully. "Yes, that's a good idea if you've any money."

But nobody had, so China it was, and turning around they crossed some mountains and lakes and forest and a desert and another ocean until they came to it. There they got all the rice

Health Is a Woman's Greatest Asset

Contrast the cheerful, happy woman with head erect, the glow of health on her cheeks, the elastic step, and bubbling enthusiasm as she goes about her daily tasks, with the woman who suffers from backache, headaches, dragging-down pains, nervousness and despondency. Such conditions are undoubtedly caused by woman's ailments, which will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for many years has been restoring weak, ailing women to health and strength. Every woman who suffers in this way owes it to herself to at least give it a trial.—Adv.

A light docket of only four cases, all of which were continued, was heard in the local police court this morning, with Judge Enright presiding on the bench. Ovide Bourgeois, charged with unlawfully doing the work of a journeyman plumber, had his case continued to April 21. Bonds were fixed at $100 personal recognizance. It is alleged in the complaint that the defendant "engaged in the business of plumbing without a license," and on the 30th of March "did unlawfully do certain work as a journeyman plumber." Anthony Caidara, held on charges preferred by a girl, had his case continued to April 18. The case of George P. Roberts, charged with neglect of his wife, was continued to April 15, at the request of the wife's counsel, engaged today at the superior court session. There were five offenders against the rules of sobriety, but they were all released by Probation Officer Slattery prior to the convening of court.

WILL ATTEND SPECIAL SERVICE IN BOSTON

This city will be represented at the special service to be conducted by the Very Rev. Edmund S. Rousmaniere in the cathedral church of St. Paul, Boston, Saturday, April 16, for the managers, foster mothers and children of the church home society and rectors of this diocese.

Church women, who have taken Episcopal boys and girls into their homes, and the clergy are planning to attend the service. The Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., of Cambridge, educational secretary of the diocese, has been chosen to make the address this year. After luncheon in the cathedral rooms the children will be entertained in a story telling hour.

The following day, Sunday, April 17, will be observed generally in the diocese as Church Home society Sunday. The Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, president of this society, in a letter sent out this week, called attention to the cathedral service and requested the clergy to speak of the work of the society from their pulpits.

MAY DISBAND HOME RULE COMMITTEE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will appear before the street railway home rule committee at its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon in city hall to discuss with the members the continued existence of the committee. The mayor's action follows the resignation of one of the members, George F. Wells. He has not yet formally accepted Mr. Wells' withdrawal from the committee and will refrain from doing so until he has ascertained the sentiment of the other members relative to continuing the organization.

FIRE ALARMS

A telephone alarm was sent in at 9:12 o'clock this morning for a chimney fire at 87 Union street. At 9:31 another telephone call was sent in for a slight blaze at 15 Currier street. At 9:50 o'clock last evening an alarm was sounded from box 58 for a slight blaze in an old barn at the corner of Parker street and Highland avenue.

PREPARATIONS FOR SCHOOL GARDEN WORK

Preliminary preparations for school garden work by the children of the lower grades of the public schools are now under way and indications point to a very successful year, according to Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of the primary schools, who is directing the work. A large quantity of seeds received from Congressman John Jacob Rogers has been distributed in the various schools and the actual planting will be started in the course of the next week or two.

General Strike Set for Friday

Continued
lary labor party, and former Premier Asquith, concurred in the opinion that debate would be unwise.

Mr. Clynes added that between now and Friday, other counsels might prevail. The debate thereupon was deferred.

To Strike Friday

LONDON, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain's "triple alliance of labor" will call its members from their posts at 10 o'clock Friday night, it was announced here this morning at 11 o'clock. This decision follows the inability of the National Miners' federation to reach an agreement with the mine owners and the government for the settlement of the miners' strike which began April 1.

The triple alliance is made up of the National Miners' federation, having a membership of 800,000; the National Union of Railway Men, with 300,000 members and the National Federation of Transport Workers, which numbers as its members, unions which have a membership close to 300,000. It has been estimated that if the alliance should call a strike there would be nearly 4,000,000 persons idle in England as a result.

The decision to strike was reached unanimously by the transport workers and railway men, J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's union said.

"The walkout," he declared, "will take place at 10 o'clock Friday night. Many other unions have sent applications to join the strike, and these are being considered."

Other labor organizations may become involved in the controversy between the government and the triple alliance. The Daily Mail declared today that the executive committee of the Electrical Trades union resolved last night to support the alliance. An electricians' strike would paralyze street car traffic and public lighting companies.

The reaffirmation by the triple alliance of its pledge to support the miners, through the announcement that its members would cease work Friday night, keeps the industrial sky dark. Many observers, however, found reassurance today in the fact that the days to intervene before the strike becomes effective leave opportunities for several available agencies to tender their good offices in an effort to bring the opposing forces to the conference table again.

There has been no specific statement

from either side that it considers the negotiations terminated, and the assumption is that all three parties are hopeful that one of the others will invite a new move.

The government today issued the following statement:

"In the event of the threatened extension of the stoppage of work, the government wishes to make it clear that they will use the fullest powers of the state to protect the workers who remain at work in any services essential to the life of the community."

The miners, it is learned, threw in the faces of the triple alliance leaders an argument contained in the manifesto issued by those leaders last week, charging the government and the owners with conspiracy to break up the trade unionist movement. The miners pointed out that the desertion of the railway men and the transport workers at this juncture would bring approximately this result, for the alliance was generally considered the most powerful industrial weapon of the trade unionists.

If the triple alliance is beaten the whole movement is beaten," was one of the contentions voiced.

One Member of Hungarian Cabinet Quit

BUDAPEST, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Gustave Gratz, minister of foreign affairs is the only member of the Hungarian cabinet to resign as a result of the visit of former Emperor Charles of Hungary. The agrarian party has agreed to postpone the question of electing an occupant of the throne until foreign pressure ceases to be of influence in this country. Irritation is reported in Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia. It is asserted they are tired of maintaining an armed watch and there are indications they are preparing for joint action that will lay the ghost of the restoration of the Hapsburgs.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 13.—The 178th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson was observed today at the University of Virginia, of which he was the founder. Citizens of the commonwealth were urged in a proclamation by Governor Davis, to join with the university in honoring the memory of the great Virginian, and many came here for the founders' day exercises. Brief exercises were held at the mountainside grave at Monticello, while a wreath was placed there by Frank M. Randolph, a descendant of the writer of the Declaration of Independence. Messages were read from many notables, including former President Taft and Vice President Coolidge.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

Bishop Lawrence Deplores

Clergymen Mixing Business With Holy Orders

BOSTON, April 13.—Bishop William Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Episcopal church today deplored the number of clergymen who were mixing business with Holy Orders to eke out a living. Their number was startling, he said, and the condition was one which he regarded as symptomatic of a let-down of the standards of high devotion, industry, self-sacrifice and efficiency. "The figure may be no greater than in other callings from which many men drop out," said the bishop. "But the priest of the church is consecrated to life service and if for good reasons he must drop out and take up another life work, should he not ask to be released from all official relations with the ministry and not allow his name to stand in the list?"

"I know well that each man has his own reason and difficulties; but I believe that we should have some spirit in the church, such an esprit de corps of the clergy that we should assume life consecration in active service."

The bishop said there was increasing danger of a commercialized ministry due in part to small salaries.

A clergyman finding it impossible to live upon his salary, might be justified in retiring from the ministry and earning his living in some secular pursuit, he said. When such a man works six days a week in a secular pursuit

LOWELL WOMAN SAYS CINOT GAVE HER A GREAT APPETITE AND IS A WONDERFUL TONIC

Mrs. C. A. Clough of 15 Dutton St. Lowell, Mass., Gives CINOT Credit for Helping Her Greatly—Says She Never Saw Anything Like It

Lowell is beginning to find out that CINOT is what it is advertised to be and it will not be long until the fact of its great merit will be well known. Mrs. Clough says:

"I had constipation and rheumatism and my digestion was very poor and appetite as bad. I would have blurry spots come before my eyes and would feel tired out and have no ambition."

"A friend of mine who had obtained wonderful results with CINOT advised me to try this remedy and I started to use it. The very first dose really seemed to help me and as I proceeded with it, my improvement became very noticeable and today, after taking two bottles, I feel better than I have in many months, and I am glad and willing to endorse CINOT to my friends and neighbors."

CINOT is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Daws Drug store, Merrimack square, and is for sale by all druggists everywhere.—Adv.

MEETING HOUSE STORE

Commission Asked Not to Allow Store in the Ministry-at-Large

Protesting that the building of the Ministry-at-Large on Middlesex street, "has for 50 years been consecrated to the worship of God," several local bodies last evening petitioned the license commission against granting a second-hand clothing store license to "the Goodwill Industries, Inc., so-called," a corporation organized by the Methodist Episcopal churches of this city, among those registering their protest against the action of the Methodist body, were the British-American social club, Gen. Fiske Lodge, I.O.G.T., Olympic soccer football club, Past Presidents association, Daughters of St. George. The petition mentions that the Ministry-at-Large building has been maintained for the poor of Lowell, and adds, "Therefore do we protest as unsuitable the opening of a store for the purpose of commercial gain in the Ministry-at-Large building and do request that the application of the Goodwill Industries, so-called, as above stated be dismissed. The petition is signed as follows:

"British-American Social Club, George B. Marshall, President;
"Gen. Fiske Lodge, I.O.G.T., Nina E. Betts, Secretary;
"Olympic Soccer Club, Arnold Robinson, Secretary;
"Past Presidents Association, Daughters of St. George, Nora Marshall, Past President;
"Free Congregation of Free Church, Agnes S. Atkinson."
The matter of granting the license to the Goodwill Industries was laid on the table until the board's next meeting, April 20, after it had been ascertained that representatives of the petitioners were not present to state the grounds of their request for a license. Those remonstrants who appeared agreed to this postponement. The Goodwill Industries, organized in this city several months ago by the Methodist congregations of Lowell, is at present conducting a store on Brookings street.

The first case to come before the board was that of Oscar Aslanian, who received permission to conduct a confectionery and ice cream establishment on Central st. When it was shown that although the establishment has a police record, this was earned while the place

REPORTS ON WORK OF NEW ORGANIZATION

The principal feature of a meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell Goodwill Industries, Inc., in the Central church last evening, was the reading of a report on the activities of the organization by Rev. Louis C. Boeckes, minister of the church. During the meeting, Rev. E. J. Helms of the Morgan Memorial, Boston, made a brief address and the name of Charles E. Drew was added to the list of directors.

Mr. Boeckes' report was in part as follows: "A brief statement of the general condition of affairs will not do justice to the splendid work that is being done in a building where one year ago there were 20 people of seven different nationalities living. The task of cleaning the house, remodeling the building, showing an organization, arousing public sentiment and making the Goodwill Industries live has been occupying the attention and gripping the heart of more people than is usually suspected.

"The religious side is of primary interest and therefore treated first. Since Dec. 1, 1920, or since the inception of the work, morning prayers have been conducted by the people at work. These meetings have proved their own value and I venture that a similar vote of the workers tomorrow morning would be to continue this part of the day's work.

"Unemployment is one of the evils which the Industries helps to meet. In all, 1236 days' work has been given to applicants at the office. Fifty-five different men and women have been employed, and almost without exception have proved worthy of confidence, sympathy and help. These 55 people have been paid $1074.85 in wages.

"The work has been departmentalized as far as possible, with the result that the following departments have emerged: The collecting is in charge of A. F. Adams and a capable assistant, Mrs. Margaret Pendergast has charge of the sorting; Miss Gladys Deesey is chief saleslady; Mrs. Lawson supervises the repair department; Mr. McKissack the furniture repair; and Mrs. Myra Marks the bag making. The office and employment bureau, also the dormitory, is under the care of Miss M. M. Benson. Mrs. Lillian H. Hill has general supervision of sorting, stores and clothing repair, while Alan D. Boeckes has nearly completed his training at Morgan Memorial, Boston, and will at that time become superintendent of the Lowell enterprise.

"There are at present in Lowell and vicinity 1752 bag holders, 100 bags, and 203 pieces of furniture have been collected. About one-half of the ma-

Family Wakes To Find Huge Feudal Castle on Its Hands

They were just plain American folk, living in a modest bungalow at Alameda, Cal., and then came the message from England that they had an ancient feudal castle on their hands—a huge 14th century castle, with walls seven feet thick, a family ghost and everything. So John J. Cutley, whose photo is shown in upper right, will move his little family to "Castle Coupland." Upper right is Miss Mary Cutley, one of Cutley's two pretty daughters, and below a photograph of the castle.

From a small Alameda, California, bungalow—to a vast Northumberland, England, feudal estate—with three thousand acres of English downs—hundreds of tenants—and even the proverbial ghosts and haunted room. Such is the transition of John J. Cutley of Alameda, Cal., after nearly 10 years' residence in the United States.

A short time ago the Right Reverend Monsignor Cutley of Coupland Castle died. By right of inheritance, being the next in line of descent, the estate has now descended to John J. Cutley, American, and his wife and two pretty young daughters.

Coupland Castle is in Northumberland, in the north of England, and is terral collected has been repaired and sold and the remainder is in carefully arranged bins ready for the larger demands that are all the time developing. The extent of this demand is shown by the fact that during the last week of January and the first of February the opening days of the Goodwill store about $100 worth of goods were sold. During the last two weeks of March more than four times that amount was purchased by a steady stream of customers.

"The newest department of the Industries is the cafeteria. This has been in operation less than a week. A meal of meat, potatoes, one vegetable, bread, butter and coffee is sold to employees and staff.

HARDING'S MESSAGE PLEASES G.O.P. LEADERS

WASHINGTON, April 13—(By the Associated Press)—General approval of President Harding's declaration in his first message to congress yesterday that the United States could have no part in the present League of Nations, and that state of war should be ended by congressional resolution was expressed by republican senate leaders. Both of the "irreconcilable" and "reservationists" groups.

Senator Lodge, who led the long fight for reservations to the treaty of Versailles, said he was "extremely pleased" by the message, which he declared "separates us from the league and approves passage of the Knox resolution."

Senators Johnson of California and Borah of Idaho, leaders of the "irreconcilables," expressed gratification that the president had definitely rejected the present league and had declared restoration of peace by congressional action. They expressed doubt, however, that the treaty of Versailles, with the league covenant attached, could be put into shape for ratification—a possibility suggested by Mr. Harding.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, acting democratic leader, who led the Wilson forces in the senate for ratification of the treaty and league, expressed disappointment at the president's message. He declared that by refusing to enter the league the United States had refused to take part in the effort to stabilize the social, business and governmental conditions of the world, without which, he said, there could be neither a revival of business nor prosperity.

CORSARO FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

LAWRENCE, April 12—Lavinio Corsaro, of this city, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury at a special session of the superior criminal court at 11 o'clock last night. The verdict was received by Judge Louis S. Cox, who presided at the trial and who will probably sentence Corsaro sometime later in the week.

Corsaro was found guilty of the murder of Mike Lantano on January 24, 1920, following an argument in a poolroom on Elm street. The trial started a week ago Monday and the commonwealth was represented by District Attorney S. Howard Donnell while the defendant was represented by Attorneys John P. Kane and Angelo G. Rocca. The defense pleaded that Corsaro shot in self-defense.

MAN WHO SLEEPS UNDER TREE AN ORNITHOLOGIST

NEW YORK, April 13—An elderly man in tattered cap and suit sat motionless under a tree at 257th street and Broadway when a mounted patrolman, informed that a queer stranger had been sleeping there three days, approached. "I'm interested in birds," the old man said, "particularly in the domestic affairs of the pair of crows above us. I have outlived their acquaintances three seasons." He launched then into the story of a row that was being waged in the nest, the result of the laying there of a cuckoo's egg. "The male bird wanted to throw it out but the female chirped 'No' and has hatched it. I am waiting to see what will happen next. Queer things, birds."

"Yes," said the patrolman, "and folks hereabouts think you're somewhat of a queer bird, too."

"How very extraordinary," replied he of the latter clothing. "Here's my card."

The patrolman read: "Professor Malcolm Ogilvie, New York Ornithological Society"—and rode on.

TO RUN LODGING HOUSE IN PLANT

BOSTON, April 13—A license to conduct a lodging house in its plant on Broad street was granted yesterday to the Southgate Press, one of the city's involved in a printing trades strike here. The attention of the health authorities had been called to the fact that a number of workers were eating and sleeping at the plant and Monday Health Commissioner Woodward notified the company that a license must be procured if the practice was to continue. The permit was issued with the approval of both police and health officers.

SIMPLE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calomine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads as thickly as the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomine powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads as they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

BRAND NEW TRICK
IN BOOZE TRAFFIC

Here's a swindle that takes the record in the annals of the local liquor squad. About a month ago, five 10-gallon cans were seized by Officers Clark, Winn, O'Sullivan and Kivian in a Washington street barn. Subsequently the owner of the premises appeared in court and paid a fine of $100 for illegal keeping. He lamented to members of the police force the fact that within a few minutes he would have sold the stuff, which had just been delivered to his premises via auto truck. He lost not only his $100 fine, but several hundred for the supposed 50-gallons of alcohol. Yes, "supposed" is right. For the liquor officers discovered yesterday, after the five cans had rested at police headquarters for a month, that each was fitted with an "inner tube" as it were.

This was filled with about a pint of

"alkie." Outside this tube there was, not fire-water, but just plain water itself. In other words, the chap who paid $100 fine for having 50 gallons of grain alcohol in his possession, in reality had only a few pints. The rest was harmless and perfectly legal water. Here's another angle of the story. The officers, just before they raided the barn, received a tip via telephone to the effect that spirits would be found there. It is now believed that the unknown who attempted to "key" the victim who passed over a good round sum for a more trickle of "alkie," was also the one who "phoned headquarters, in an effort to have the alcohol confiscated before the cheat was discovered by the purchaser.

But, strange to say, not a living soul suspected that all was not as it should be, until one of the cans, from which the scoundrel had fallen out, tipped over, and only a small pool of alcohol was on the floor. Yet, although a stick put full length into the opening of the can came out dry when one lifted the can. It was as heavy as a tuffed full. One of the liquor officers then went carefully over the surface of the can and found a tiny soldered spot. He tapped the solder away, and out came—pure, honest, lawful water—quarts of it. The liquor squad are telling a story yesterday to the effect that they called up the defendant, who paid the $100 fine and told him of the cheat that had been pulled off at his expense, although the law prevented him from finding it out. "Can't I sue him?" was the answer over the wire.

The body of G. L. Lemoine, former corporal of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, which was found floating in the Merrimack canal yesterday morning, has been identified by Mrs. Charles C. She has heard nothing of him since the time Lemoine had been living with his sister since 1917, when he was discharged from the Canadian army because of disability. When the papers found in his pocket were originally examined by Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith they indicated that Lemoine had the rank of captain in the Canadian forces, but when the papers became dry it was found that his rank was "corporal." Lemoine has other relatives in Sorel, Province of Quebec, Canada, and the body is to be forwarded there from the undertaking rooms of C. H. Molloy's Sons in this city.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

ADAMS AND HARRIS CLASH

Spirited Meeting Before Ways and Means Committee at State House

President of Lowell Association Criticizes State Fish and Game Association

Plan to Quadruple Fees for Hunting and Fishing Licenses, Opposed

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 13.—A spirited clash between Simon B. Harris, president of the Lowell Fish and Game club and William C. Adams, director of the division of fisheries and game in the state department of conservation, marked yesterday's hearing before the ways and means committee of the house on the proposal that the fees for licenses to hunt and fish in this state be quadrupled.

Mr. Harris declared that the present administration of the fish and game activities of the state is not up to par, citing as an instance of its lack of efficiency the fact that the highway at Pawtucket falls, ordered by the legislature of 1918, is not yet even begun while that of Lawrence, ordered at the same time, has only recently been completed.

Mr. Adams replied by stating that he had sent to Mr. Harris, president of the Lowell club, Monday night a statement of his views with regard to the fishways. Mr. Harris, however, announced that he did not receive Mr. Adams' communication before leaving Lowell Tuesday morning to attend the hearing.

Before the committee there is a bill providing that a fishing license shall hereafter cost $2, instead of 50 cents as at present; a hunting license to cost $2 also, making the cost to one who desires to fish and hunt $4, instead of the present fee of $1.

Mr. Adams declared that the proposed charges are entirely reasonable. "Take the hunting license, for example," he said; "this bill makes it cost less than the price of a single theatre ticket, and yet it gives the holder nine months of pleasure, while in actual value it will return to him in the meat of game, if he is any kind of a hunter, far more than the cost of the license. And it is the same with the fishing license."

"Then there is another point; the strain to which our life has been subjected in recent years must be relieved in some way. It is no use to attempt to deny the facts; we must admit that our protective laws are not being adequately enforced. We have 30 wardens, and each one has an average of 415 square miles to cover. Between them they have five Ford automobiles to cover the territory. Each man is allowed a maximum expense account of $31 per month, $1 per day. Just think of trying to enforce these game laws in southern Berkshire county, where there are no railroads and no street cars, upon an allowance of $1 per day for expenses. We have 500 great ponds in the state, and 1000 miles of streams suitable for fish culture. We are spending $40,000 on the job and for courts we are even scratching the surface. Of course the sportsmen are kicking because their game and their fishing are being depleted. They have either got to stop kicking or pay more freight."

A member of the committee expressed the fear that in the pending bill the license fee was not as high as it should be. "Poor country boy" might not be able to obtain one. This stirred Mr. Adams noticeably, and he replied:

"I'm going to tell you about that 'poor country boy.' For the past two or three years he has been getting it mighty soft. He has been getting it soft for the sake of his pocket. He has been able to trap, and when you and I were kids we thought ourselves mighty lucky if we got 15 cents. I think it would do that boy a lot of good if he had to get out and sweat blood to earn the money for his license fee, for then he would appreciate it, and appreciate the efforts the state is making to preserve the game for his pleasure and profit. But at present the license fee is so low that he looks upon it as just a formality, and he is apt to destroy as much as he takes for profit. Then there are a lot of them who don't care anything about the law anyway. I could stand here for an hour and tell you about violations of the law by

DOG BITE CASE
The board of health has been notified of a case of dog bite in which the victim was Harold Given, 24, of 333 Union street, who was bitten Sunday on the left leg by a dog said to be owned by Charles McCarthy, 413 Walker street. Dr. Walter A. Sherwin, animal inspector and the state health authorities have been notified.

Lowell Men Speak
Simon B. Harris, president of the Lowell Fish and Game association, was the principal opponent of the increased fees, although a large number of sportsmen clubs in western Massachusetts had sent to the committee telegrams expressing their opposition.

He said the colonists decreed that fishing should be free, and it was always free in this state until a one-man administration came into power in connection with the fish and game activities of the state. Some years ago hunters were required to obtain a license for identification purposes, and that was perfectly proper, as it was desirable that men going into the woods armed with a dangerous weapon should be known, but fishing, he insisted, is an innocent pastime which should be free. "The fishermen, but savior," he said, "were disciplined, but if this bill had been a law then they must have starved for they had no money with which to pay the fee."

The public, he said, owns the ponds and streams just as much as it owns the public libraries, and if a license is to be required for using the one, there is no reason why it should not be required for using the other.

Dr. Clarence B. Livingston, vice president of the same association, said the bill has been growing worse, not understanding the increases in fees charged. "If they jump the fee 400 per cent, as this bill provides," he said, "this only knows how poor the fishing will be next year. He also criticized the administration of the department, particularly for its failure to put into effect the legislation of 1918 requiring fishways in the Merrimack river. He declared that recently a man has been hundreds of fish attempting to get up over the falls at Lowell, there being several with their insides torn out by being thrown back on the sharp rocks."

While S. Holt, secretary of the association, pointed out that under the provision of the bill, there is no guarantee that the additional revenue received from increased fees will be used for the work of the department. The committee took the matter under advisement.

The Lining of Your Throat

The lining of your throat is a starting point of many of our troubles. It is here that colds develop, it is here that inflammation sets in and coughs, which spread to the bronchial tubes, originate.

Science has discovered certain elements which act directly upon the lining of the throat and air passages, soothing and healing the irritation and helping nature to restore normal health.

These elements are contained in Father John's Medicine, prepared in just such a way that they are easily taken up by the system and promptly become effective.

This is one of the reasons why Father John's Medicine has a history of more than 65 years' success in the treatment of coughs, colds and similar troubles.—Adv.

LONDON, April 13. (By the

triple alliance strike announcement,
Prime Minister Lloyd George stated
in the house of commons today,
that the situation thus created was
"of great and increasing gravity,"
but he still hoped that wiser counsels might prevail.Meanwhile, he added, the government was taking all possible steps
to meet the emergency.Mr. Lloyd George said the government deeply deplored the decision of the triple alliance. He em-

the release of Eugene V. Debs and all other prisoners convicted under
the war-time espionage act, that he contemplated no action looking to general amnesty for such prisoners until a state of peace had been de-

statement after leaving the White House in which it said the president
had received it "most courteously,
asking questions to bring out certain points."He spoke of his entire sympathy with the desire of the committee to see an era of frank discussion in an atmosphere of good will established in America; the statement added, "and intimated that the eases of these prisoners for whom the committee spoke had already begun to receive attention from the department of justice."In presenting their arguments the committee cited various court decisions which they said established
that the prisoners referred to were
not guilty of overt acts, but merely
of holding opinions which were considered as harmful.The visit of the delegation to the White House was a part of a gen-

WOULD PUT STAIN

Against $25,000,000 Colombian TreatySays Ratification Would Place
Stain Upon Name and
Fame of RooseveltWASHINGTON, April 13.—
Launching the fight against the $25,000,000 Colombian treaty, Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota,
told the ratification of the pact
would "place a stain upon the name
and fame" of Theodore Roosevelt
and would acknowledge that the United States "wronged Colombia,
violated her rights and are now
willing to make reparation therefor."Senator Kellogg said he was concerned "lest we go on record by the pusillanimous act of this ratification and thereby cast a shadow on the brightest page of the history of American accomplishments."He said examination of the documents involved had convinced him that the United States did not institute the Panamanian revolution, and had a perfect right to recognize Panama and enter into the treaty for the canal concession. Title of the United States to the canal, he said, "is good in law and morals."Yet after a lapse of nearly 20 years,
"we are asked to make reparation to Colombia for taking Panama."He read the republican minority report of the senate foreign relations committee on the pact in March, 1917, signed by Senators Lodge, Borah, Brandage and Fall. It set forth that for the $25,000,000 payment the United States would receive "absolutely nothing, either corporate or incorporeal," while "Colombia grants nothing, parts with nothing she possesses.""If this treaty which is now submitted to the senate is a good treaty at this date," he continued, "it was a good treaty eight years ago when negotiated by the democratic administration."

today in a raid on a house on Lincoln street, following complaints about ac-hot water compartment of the kitchen stove had been turned into a cache for morphine. Instead of using the space for heating water, the police report, it had been disconnected from the hot water tank and they found in it a tin box containing 25 one-ounce grains of the drug, 12 empty tin boxes, a hypodermic syringe and a spoon.

The police arrested James Johnson, 23 years old, also known as "Mohammed

Harding, Galbraith Says, Pledges Relief for Disabled War Veterans

By WHIT HADLEY

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I am going to cut the accused red tape which strangles our disabled American soldiers, or I will shake the civilized world with the scandal that I will expose."

This is the assertion of Col. F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion. I had asked him what the legion would do in the immediate future to remedy the neglect of America's war wounded.

"In my recent four-hour conference with President Harding," he continued, "I told him the exact situation and he was greatly shocked. He gave me his hand and he said, 'Colonel, this is indeed dreadful. I will stand back of you to the very limit.'"

"I told President Harding that the treatment of our wounded, helpless and mentally affected soldiers had now become a national stench. I promised him I would write him and state frankly what the situation was. I have done so."

"The president is determined, as are we, that there shall be no delay at the hands of the government prompt and adequate treatment as well as decent compensation, and he will force new legislation to that end."

"We need $20,000,000 a year for four years. We need 45,347 hospital beds."

"For this year $15,000,000 was appropriated. We will prove that this isn't enough and that it will supply only 10,000 beds."

What He Told Harding
"Here is what I told and then wrote President Harding:

"No permanent or continuing hospital building program has been provided by the government. The result? The disabled are scattered over a thousand private hospitals without government supervision. In these hospitals there are 10,347 beds which are filthy and inflammable."

"We believe the money necessary for a continuing hospital building program to continue at least three years, should be appropriated, and the location and type of hospitals to be constructed should be placed in the hands of a committee of eminent medical men working with the surgeon general of the public health service, and that this committee should be selected from the divisions of general medicine, surgery, tuberculosis and neuro-psychiatry."

"The adoption of such a policy would permit of a scientific plan being worked out and would immediately insure that the needs be met as they arise."

Urges Consolidation
"Next, I told the president about consolidating the bureau of war risk insurance, the public health service, and the rehabilitation section of the board for vocational training. Said I:

"After unbiased study of the situation, we believe the conditions affecting the compensation, care, treatment, and training of disabled men can never be satisfactorily accomplished until these bureaus have been consolidated under one executive head."

"As the matter now stands a man

applies for compensation under the war risk act of Oct. 6, 1917.

"The bureau being centralized in Washington is unable to give the man assistance in filling out his claim and this occasions endless correspondence and red tape. Ignorant men and clever politicians defeat his cause generally."

"If he is examined by a doctor acting for the bureau the doctor has no authority to determine the degree of disability of the helpless sufferer, and only a rating is given on a general average according to a fixed table, derived from the experience had by the bureau. Despite his sufferings and needs it usually takes three months to give him a rating. There are now 91,000 cases on file, of which 10,000 are over nine months old."

"In the consolidation of these bureaus it is absolutely essential that the war risk insurance be decentralized and authorized to establish four regional offices and as many sub-offices as may be necessary in order that the bureau may accept its responsibility and seek out and assist the man where he may be in need; that these regional and other offices be consolidated in order that a man requiring hospitalization, compensation or vocational training may receive through one organization the attention he requires. This at the same time, should reduce the work of handling the work by avoiding endless duplication of reports for offices and personnel."

"I then said and later wrote that we are of the belief that it should be the policy of the government to provide a man who has a disability of 10 per cent and more, or who has a vocational handicap, with an opportunity to be trained—giving him a chance to become a better and more self-respecting, self-sustaining citizen. Consequently, we demand that a person with a disability of 10 per cent or more, or a vocational handicap, be immediately eligible to training which will carry maintenance pay."

"In closing I said and wrote that under the law there is no provision for the retirement of a disabled emergency officer, as is provided in the case of officers of the regular establishment, or of emergency naval officers. We demand that any officer who served in the military forces of the United States during the war with Germany and who incurred disabilities in the service, and who is honorably discharged, shall be entitled to retirement on the same terms as officers of the regular army."

"A bill has been introduced known as the Sweet bill (H. R. 16159). We want it passed because it provides for the very things I have asked of the president."

"In addition to that President Harding has been asked to designate the week of May 29 to June 4 as a disabled soldiers' week. More than 123,000 women are behind it and they plan to speed action for bills of relief."

BANK OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

WILL ATTEND MASS IN BODY

The members of Oliver Plunkett council, A.A.R.I.R., will attend in a body a mass to be celebrated at St. Columba's church at 8:15 next Tuesday morning, April 19, in memory of the Irish martyr who died in the 1816 uprising. The council voted to take this action at a meeting held Monday night.

It was also voted to contribute $100 to the Irish relief drive and there are prospects that more will be donated before the campaign ends. Chairman O'Grady, of the dance committee reported that arrangements have been completed for the first annual dance of the council to be held Friday evening, April 22. The council will hold a musical entertainment in connection with the next regular meeting to be held in St. Peter's school hall Wednesday, April 20. John McInerney presided at the meeting and there were remarks by John Rafferty and Thomas Golden. James Cronin entertained with a solo.

NATION WIDE DRIVE

Campaign to Restore Confidence in Building and Construction Industry

NEW YORK, April 13.—A nationwide drive to rehabilitate and restore public confidence in the building and construction industry of the United States by wiping out "wasteful strife" and by uniting the various elements and interests into one big co-operative association has been launched by the executive board of the national congress of the building construction industry.

Local conferences representative of the industry are being formed in the principal cities of the country, it was announced here today at the headquarters of the congress, and it is planned to convene the first national assembly

of this organization in Chicago in the late spring or early summer.

Under the national congress plan representatives of the contractors, subcontractors, manufacturers of building materials, architects and engineers are brought together into "common meeting" to consider vital problems confronting the building industry and inaugurate "effective and acceptable remedies."

"The industry has been a headless, inarticulate body and has suffered the consequences of the self-imposed isolation," said a statement by the executive board of the national congress. "The functions of its parts must be coordinated. Co-operation must take the place of the wasteful strife. Such action, if intelligently carried forward, will be in the public's interest, and, therefore, must also be in the interest of the industry. The right type of co-operation under liberal leadership offers the only method of reconciling the demand of the public for its own prosperity and the demand of the public for adequate and economical construction. Such a meeting of minds, such a recognition of common purpose, means fundamentally that the industry must organize itself as a public service, frankly assuming the obligations of a group associated with the primary purpose of supplying the public need."

The congress proposes: "To make a scientific survey of the needs of the industry in workers and of how these needs may be met; to study the present methods of training and educating personnel, and to discover and correct the causes of the progressive decline in the supply and quality of workers in the industry. To study the needs of the industry and the sources of supply of raw materials and manufactured products; the quantities of such materials and products to determine the national requirements of construction in 1921 and succeeding years.

Among the problems to be considered by the organization are listed the following: How shall abundant credit resources be made available at reasonable cost to the industry in order that it may function in satisfying public need? How shall the industry be led to adopt a uniform and equitable policy in bidding and with respect to contract terms and conditions?

How is genuinely co-operative effort by employers and wage earners (whether or not organized) to be substituted for the antagonism which, in the past, has checked productions?

The preliminary plans for the first assembly of the national congress of building and construction industries calls for 15 delegates from each of various groups of elements in the industry—general contractors, subcontractors, engineers, architects, labor, manufacturers, investment bankers. These will be selected by the various local conferences now being organized from coast to coast.

Conferences, it was stated, have already been organized in New York, Pittsburgh, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Minneapolis, Detroit and many other cities.

There is another body working for the same object, but which, at the present time, is not associated with the national congress. This body is the national federation of construction industries, with headquarters in Philadelphia. While the objects of both of these bodies are the same, the means being used to accomplish the desired ends are slightly different.

SCHOONER MAYFLOWER LAUNCHED YESTERDAY

ESSEX, April 12.—The schooner Mayflower, built to prosecute the fisheries out of Boston and to represent that port in the races next fall for the International fishing vessel trophy, won at Halifax, N. S., last year by the Gloucesterman Esperanto, was launched yesterday. After Starling Burgess, the five-year-old daughter of W. S. Starling Burgess, designer of the boat, christened her with a bottle of champagne, the yacht-like vessel slid down the ways into the mud of the Essex river.

She held a moment on the bank of the opposite shore, but a tug pulled her clear and started for the sea to tow her to Boston for equipment of sails and spars. But a regaling tide caught her still in the creek and she was held up again in shallow water. The launch-

POSTPONE HEARINGS IN STILLMAN CASE

NEW YORK, April 13.—Hearings in the divorce suit brought by James A. Stillman yesterday were postponed until early in May. John A. Mack, guardian ad litem for Guy S. Stillman, whose paternity is questioned, refused to agree to April 20, the date selected by attorneys for husband and wife. Mr. Mack said he would be unable to take part in the proceedings this month and suggested that the next hearing be held May 1 and 2. This was agreeable to other interests involved.

FRANCE TO USE FORCE

Time for Words Has Passed, Says Briand—To Use Coercion on Germany

PARIS, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Briand in the debate in the chamber of deputies yesterday on German reparations declared: "The time for words has passed. We must now resort to action."
The premier recalled the warnings given to Germany by the Paris and London conferences and the subsequent application of penalties, and added that the government had hoped the German government would realize that it could no longer delay fulfillment of its undertakings.
"We discuss, however," he said, "that the penalties enforced have not produced the expected results. We note that there still exists in Germany a disposition to evade payment. On May 1 Germany will be face to face with a whole series of violations of the treaty which she signed."

"I repeat here, with all the strength at my command, that we creditors hold a perfectly legal deed. A process served on her has been dispatched to Germany, and if our debtor persists in refusal to pay, the next time a policeman will accompany him."

"This process is a legal proceeding as between individuals in every day life, and it is the same in relations between nations. It is no use to begin over again discussions already closed. We have in hand a promissory note duly signed, and if the debtor refuses to pay he must coerce him by all means of coercion we have in our power."

M. de Lasteyrie, official reporter of the finance committee of the chamber, discussing reparations and reconstruction, said that Germany had paid only three billion francs reparations, although she claimed to have paid 21 billion, having computed in her payments the value of the war material left behind during her retreat. M. de Lasteyrie concluded: "France must be paid. If Germany refuses, France must go in herself and exact payment. It is a question of life or death."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE:
A saucy little charmer portrays the acting of Miss Ryan in "Fog for Short," the little play which she gives at the B. F. Kelth theatre this week. It is an unusual little affair, more largely devoted to the delineation of a character of "Fog" than to a plot. Rodney Hannon, almost capable young actor, appears with Miss Ryan in the piece. Gordon & Ford, makers of nonsense and music, are well to the fore in the mirth-provoking bill, and Rome & Gaut, who are literally the long and the short of it, do some very good eccentric dancing. The remainder of the bill has many high spots, including the ventriloquism of William Ebb, who makes use of a strange figure; the dancing, skating of the Sterns; the singing of the Thornton Sisters and Jack's Educated Blockheads.

OPERA HOUSE:
If you enjoy a real Irish dancing concert—and regular Irish jig with an Irish fiddler providing music for the contestants, then don't miss the presentation of "Arrah-Na-Pogue." Dion Boucicault's great Irish drama, which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. Large audiences have already found genuine delight and pleasure in the production at this time point to capacity houses at all remaining presentations. Better make your reservations at once and see James O'Rourke as the fiddler, James O'Garra and Jennie Conway as the dancers. Miss Fields is as charming as ever as the Irish Colleen and Milton Byron makes an admirable Irish patriot and lover.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE:
Final performances of "O'Malley of the Mounted," starring William S. Hart, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be popular Fatty Arbuckle in "The Dollar a Year Man," and Elliott Dexter in "The Witching Hour."

Lila Lee, the charming leading woman who has become so popular by her portrayals in such pictures as "The Prince of Wales" and "Male and Female" appears in the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Arbuckle in "The Dollar a Year Man."

The story is a novel one. The members of the Santa Vista yacht club, fearful lest Franklin Finney, their only plebeian member, will disgrace them when the police is their guest, take advantage of his weakness for detecting plots and fake a kidnapping story so that he will follow the scent and be able to finish the real kidnappers. Tipton Blair, a club member with socialist views, who is the instigator of a real plot to kidnap the Strand and then him over to anarchists in a haunted house, pretends to aid Finney.

However, the prince has managed to escape the formula of the club visit and is enjoying a walk with Peggy Bruce. In passing the haunted house he hears strange noises and believing the ghosts are haunting him, he goes to investigate. The anarchists attack him and Finney manages to save him. Later, at the club the prince and Finney are the companions at the banquet.

In "The Witching Hour," a dramatic story of present day life, Elliott Dexter has one of the best roles of his career. He is supported by a capable cast.

A comedy, "High and Dry," and the international news will round out the bill.

THE STRAND:

"Tolly With a Past," an adaptation from David Belasco's great stage success, with Gus Glavin portraying the

Gives Tanlac Credit For Splendid Health

T. J. PARKER

4246 Juneau Street, Seattle, Wash.

"I used to think all the Tanlac testimonials were exaggerated, but I have felt thankful a thousand times I ever believed in it strong enough to give the medicine a trial," said T. J. Parker, well-known salesman for Gately's Clothing Store, residing at 4246 Juneau St., Seattle, Wash.

"Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I could hardly finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas on my stomach I could hardly get my breath."

"At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly get to bed. When I was ill I was sluggish and sometimes I got so dizzy I would nearly fall. I felt tired and miserable all the time, couldn't even sleep and for days at a time I wasn't able to go to work."

"Well, a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and it certainly had done a good job for me. My appetite is fine now and although I am eating just anything I want and as much as I please, my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I have picked up in weight, my strength has come back to me, and I am now enjoying the best of health."

"All the men at the store know Tanlac put me back on my feet, and I am glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

Barrymore's new role is well introduced in the picture, "The Great Adventure." It is essentially a comedy and he takes the part of the eccentric artist and is pursued by a celebrity hunter who seeks vainly to marry him. In order to escape from her clutches "The Great Adventure" hides his identity by posing as his dead valet and he enjoys the novel distinction of attending his own funeral when the valet is buried in Westminster Abbey.

How Farill subsequently meets and marries the pretty young widow who mistakes him for the dead valet with whom she had been carrying on a correspondence for years through a matrimonial agency; how he is forced to paint and sell his pictures for a song because of this deception; how he works his way out of the deep difficulties which confront him when the deceased wife and two sons of the deceased valet turn up to demand his return to his home and how he saves the art dealer who has been selling his pictures as originals all constitute some of the most engaging situations in the story.

Barrymore's help to make this plot one of the most interesting and delightful stories of the season. In "The Great Adventure" Barrymore is supported by his talented wife, "Doris Rankin" who plays the role of the pretty widow that marries Barrymore. Others in the cast are Thomas Bridden, as the valet, Henry Leck, Octavia Brooke, as the celebrity hunter, Ivo Dawson, Charles Lane, Jed Prouty, T. J. Ratcliffe, Maybeth Carr, Katherine Stewart, Arthur Rankin and Paul Kelly. The story was taken from Arnold Bennett's novel of the same name and is produced through the Associated First National Pictures.

"Cowboy Jazz" is a production packed with thrills and dare devil stunts enacted by the champion cowboys of the western plains. Among the novel characters who make this film one of real entertainment and interest is Guy Schultz, the only man who has ever successfully ridden and thrown a wild buffalo. The picture was taken under the auspices of the Benovolent Order of Elks during the grand convention in the western states and it will be of real interest to local members of that organization.

Economical! Delicious!

"SALADA"
ORANGE PEKOE TEA

ECONOMICAL because it yields more cups to the pound than any other tea. DELICIOUS because it is pure and fresh. Moreover, it is sold in sealed metal packets only.

NOTHING TO DO BUT FRY!

All prepared—potatoes and everything. One can feeds three husky appetites. Far less expensive than eggs or meat.

What tastes better—than Gorton's
Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes?

YOU know the kind—golden-brown, plump, sizzling with aroma—the kind that "down-east" folks start every one they give them to, a-hankering for.

But, much as you and the family like them, you don't serve fish-cakes often, do you? A lot of bother—that soaking and picking of the fish, the boiling and paring of the potatoes, and then the mixing, and frying.

But now—at last—you can have fish cakes often as you want! Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes banish the bother!

You can have delicious, regular Gloucester fish cakes in only the time it takes you to open a can and fry what's in it.

But besides—

They're far more economical, the waste and labor considered. A can is enough for three people. Less expensive than any meal of meat or eggs.

Try them on your family tomorrow. Ask your grocer for a supply today. They're sold everywhere.

P.S.—A case (24 cans) of Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes in your pantry will save you work and will delight the whole family.

Their Suggestions

An unfaithful steward had embroiled a large sum and his employer asked advice as to how he should be dealt with. "Get rid of him at once," advised an Englishman. "Keep him and deduct the sum from his wages," said a Scotchman. "But," said the employer, "the sum is far greater than his wages." "Then raise his wages," suggested an Irishman.—Tit-Bits.

A Crushing Defeat

Jones met his friend the other day and asked him how he was getting on with his landlady. "Is she any better?" he remarked. "I have heard that she's always putting it over on you." "She does," replied his friend mournfully. "I believed I had cured her the other day. I bought some potatoes and before giving them to her to cook I counted them, and in a stern voice I said, 'Remember, madam, there are ten potatoes.' Dinner time came. I raised the lid of the dish, but found she had me again." "How?" asked the sympathetic friend. "She had mashed them," was the reply.

Bible Against Lightless Auto

Law founded on the bible is good enough for Mayor Gilmore of Morgantown, W. Va.

A local man, charged with not having the tail light burning on his automobile, was arraigned before the mayor, who assessed a fine of $1.

The accused protested, said it was a poor law under which he was fined and that he did not think it would hold water in court.

The mayor declared any law founded on the bible was good enough for him. The defendant said he couldn't see where a tail light had anything to do with the bible. The mayor looked pityingly at the accused and said:

"Do you remember the tale about the 10 virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do, you will remember that the Lord wouldn't have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."—Los Angeles Times.

No Wonder He Had Trouble

During the war, while I was on leave of absence in Paris I was a returned soldier. I decided to take a walk alone. I thought it advisable to copy down the name of the street in which I was staying, so I wrote down the words printed on the sidewalk.

When I was ready to return I found I could not locate the street where my hotel was, so I approached a lady, showed her what I had written in my book, and tried to learn from her where the place was. She laughed and said something in French, which, of course, I did not understand, and passed on. A number of times I did the same thing, and every time I stopped laughing, and passed on until a man said in English, "What is it you want?"

Delighted to find that I had discovered one person who spoke English, I said, "That is the name of the street where I am staying, and I am lost. Will you please direct me?" "You haven't written down a street name," said the man. "Just no bills!"—Los Angeles Times.

Americans Barred

Trotzky and Lenin now announce that immigration from the United States to Russia is stopped until such time as a Russian envoy arrives here to visit passports. That means that we cannot deport any more anarchists to Russia. In that case we must establish a special colony for their detention.

Purchasing Agent Foye has graciously adopted the suggestion of the chamber of commerce in providing that the city will not be deprived of the benefit that might accrue from any prospective reduction in the price of Portland cement. Purchase in smaller quantities seems to be the only means of accomplishing that end under present conditions. Even that has its risks of disappointment.

Until the Boston and Maine railroad can afford the expense, wherever that may be, we shall have to put up with the Middlesex street grade crossing. Should a one-man car be stalled there in front of a train, the situation might be somewhat embarrassing to the passengers involved and incidentally to the passengers.

Patches of blue may be discerned in the cloudy sky of business depression. A big Lawrence mill is advertising for help, and the American Printing company of Fall River, one of the world's largest textile concerns, had more business during the first three months of this year than ever before in its history.

A Boston woman insists that the schools, which train girls for nearly every trade and profession, should also teach them home-making. Perhaps the divorce courts might be a little less active and "Home, Sweet Home" might be sung a little more frequently if the suggestion were carried out.

We may well take our hats off to the Quakers, who, without tag days or drives for funds, are feeding three-quarters of a million starving children and carrying on vast reconstruction work in Europe. Peace, indeed, has its victories no less renowned than war.

It does look as if the nation had a great acquisition in Secretary Hughes and Secretary Hoover of the state and commerce departments respectively. Moreover, each seems to be in the office for which he is specially fitted.

Just as She's Spoke I used to think I had to be quite careful of my grammar. And if I made a slight mistake it made me blush and stammer.

But now I shall no longer strive to answer "It is I." And if I wish, I'll say "I am I." And never call an eye.

And when asked where some one is I'll say, "Where is he all?" I'll say, "I've seen" and "I've done" and "I've been" and things like that.

I'll say, "I had upon the couch." I'll say, "I had upon the couch." I'll say, "I had upon the couch." And "them" and "thine" yet!

For common usage is the thing that counts. That's the way to win in speaking English, mind no rules. Just speak it as it is spoken.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Your backyard garden won't be complete unless it has rows of lettuce and radishes. Especially radishes. The amateur gardener figures he has a garden if he can see the first promise of the new radish leaves coming out of the ground.

And when he garners his first crop and takes them into the house to the missus, he does it with the peacock air that he displayed when the first son was born.

The radish originated in Asia and has been cultivated for over 6000 years. There are people today who don't care for the radish as a food, any more than some care for olives or mushrooms. But the ancients were keen for radishes. When the Greeks served feasts to Apollo in the temple of Delphi, the radishes came in all dolled up on platters of gold, while turnips and beets were served on lowly platters of lead.

Last night I was witness to an unusual stroke of honesty on the part of a gang of boys playing in my neighborhood. About 8 o'clock my doorbell rang and on opening it I found five or six boys about 10 to 12 years—one of whom was in tears and sobbed so hard he could not tell the story of his supposed guilt, so one of the others told it for him. It seems they were chasing around the neighborhood and throwing stones, and the one who felt guilty thought he had made a mistake and broken one of my windows, for they all were ready to vouch that they had heard the sound of broken glass.

It was too dark to make a thorough search so the bunch of them said they would chip in and pay the damages, and the one who felt guilty willingly gave his name and address. Not so bad, after all. Upon a survey by daylight, no break was discovered.

I don't believe that there are many of us who would wish to be in the shoes of some of the members of the municipal council at the present time. Especially since the period of industrial depression descended upon the city has the lot of those commissioners who employ large sums of money in the city is not a happy one.

Delighted to find that I had discovered one person who spoke English, I said, "That is the name of the street where I am staying, and I am lost. Will you please direct me?" "You haven't written down a street name," said the man. "Just no bills!"—Los Angeles Times.

During the war, while I was on leave of absence in Paris I was a returned soldier. I decided to take a walk alone. I thought it advisable to copy down the name of the street in which I was staying, so I wrote down the words printed on the sidewalk.

When I was ready to return I found I could not locate the street where my hotel was, so I approached a lady, showed her what I had written in my book, and tried to learn from her where the place was. She laughed and said something in French, which, of course, I did not understand, and passed on. A number of times I did the same thing, and every time I stopped laughing, and passed on until a man said in English, "What is it you want?"

SENATOR WALSH ON MESSAGE

He Approves President's

Stand on League and on Political Principles

Both Massachusetts Senators on Most Important

Committees

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, democrat, commented very freely on the president's message when asked to do so by The Sun representative after the joint session closed. "What did you think of the message?" asked the correspondent.

"It was an admirable presentation of the pending policies before the administration. It is easy for a public man to approve the message of presidents and governors which enunciate general political principles. There are very few of the great political principles expressed by President Harding that I do not approve of. The difficulty arises in the conversion of those principles into legislation. Here it is possible for wide difference of opinion."

"What do you think of his attitude on the League of Nations and the Knox resolution for peace?" was the next question asked of the senator.

"I heartily agree with the program of taking immediate steps towards peace and to free us from the position of being technically at war with the powers of Central Europe," replied Mr. Walsh. "The president expressed the sentiments of an overwhelming majority of the American people on the League of Nations. It is time we established a state of peace towards the whole world and direct our attention completely and thoroughly to the solution of the momentous questions that are waiting settlement and this must be done before there can be a revival of business or general reconstruction in America."

Our Senators' Assignments

"The committee assignments of Massachusetts senators show strong and responsible positions. Mr. Lodge will not only be republican floor leader and leader of the majority, but will be chairman of the all important committee on foreign relations and also hold the ranking membership on naval affairs. Senator Walsh has been put in the foremost ranks by the democratic caucus and his assignments include post offices and post roads on which he will be second ranking democratic member. He is also high up on education, labor and pensions. Added to this a high tribute has been paid him by adding him to the greatest committee on finance which must deal with the tariff both emergency and permanent and also with any bonus bills which come before the senate."

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

Guarantee to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seemed clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bath the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perhaps within a few minutes. Ingredients are carefully right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you evening, little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own ethical preparation, the formula being known to a few select families. Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being known to a few select families. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in Lowell and vicinity by the leading druggists.—Adv.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Burton.

"THE PALM TREE HOTEL"

ON ONE LIMB SAT TWO MONKEYS

Away went Nancy and Nick and Mr. Flippety-Flap to the Island of Farthest-Ever to hunt up the monkey family.

The green shoes that the twins wore were heading straight for the ocean, which it is necessary to cross before you come to this particular place. That's one peculiar thing about any island, indeed, that you may have noticed. You always have to cross water before you come to it. You simply can not reach it by land, even the back way.

But just before they left the shore, Flippety-Flap stopped suddenly. "Tut!" cried he. "Not tut you but tut me, children. It's my fault I forgot! We've gotta go to China first."

"Why?" asked Nick, curiously.

"To get some rice. Monkeys like rice."

"Wouldn't the grocery store do?" suggested Nancy.

"Grocery store?" repeated the fairyman, thoughtfully. "Yes, that's a good idea if you've any money."

A light docket of only four cases, all of which were continued, was heard in the local police court this morning, with Judge Enright presiding on the bench. Ovilla Bourgeois, charged with unlawfully doing the work of a journeyman plumber, had his case continued to April 21. Bonds were fixed at $100 personal recognizance. It is alleged in the complaint that the defendant "engaged in the business of plumbing without a license," and on the 30th of March "did unlawfully do certain work as a journeyman plumber." Anthony Caldera, held on charges preferred by a girl, had his case continued to April 18. The case of George P. Roberts, charged with neglect of his wife, was continued to April 18, at the request of the wife's counsel, engaged today at the superior court session. There were five offenders against the rules of sobriety, but they were all released by Probation Officer Slattery prior to the convening of court.

Suter, Jr., of Cambridge, educational secretary of the diocese, has been chosen to make the address this year. After luncheon in the cathedral rooms the children will be entertained in a story telling hour. The following day, Sunday, April 17, will be observed generally in the diocese as Church Home society Sunday. The Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, president of this society, in a letter sent out this week, called attention to the cathedral service and requested the clergy to speak of the work of the society from their pulpits.

General Strike Set for Friday

tary labor party, and former Premier Asquith, concurred in the opinion that debate would be unwise.

Mr. Clynes added that between now and Friday, other counsels might prevail. The debate thereupon was deferred.

To Strike Friday

LONDON, April 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain's "triple alliance of labor" will call its members from their posts at 10 o'clock Friday night. It was announced here this morning at 11 o'clock. This decision follows the inability of the National Miners' federation to reach an agreement with the mine owners and the government for the settlement of the miners' strike which began April 1. The triple alliance is made up of the National Miners' federation, having a membership of 500,000; the National Union of Railway Men, with 300,000 members and the National Federation of Transport Workers, which have as its members, unions which have a membership close to 300,000. It has been estimated that if the alliance should call a strike there would be nearly 4,000,000 persons idle in England as a result.

The decision to strike was reached unanimously by the transport workers and railway men, J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's union said.

"The walkout," he declared, "will take place at 10 o'clock Friday night. Many other unions have sent applications to join the strike, and these are being considered."

Other labor organizations may become involved in the controversy between the government and the triple alliance. The Daily Mail declared today that the executive committee of the Electrical Trades union resolved last night to support the alliance. An electricians' strike would paralyze street car traffic and public lighting companies.

The reaffirmation by the triple alliance of its pledge to support the miners, through the announcement that its members would cease work Friday night, keeps the industrial sky dark.

Many observers, however, found reassurance today in the fact that the days to intervene before the strike becomes effective leave opportunities for several available agencies to tender their good offices in an effort to bring the opposing forces to the conference table again.

There has been no specific statement

from either side that it considers the negotiations terminated, and the assumption is that all three parties are hopeful that one of the others will invite a new move.

The government today issued the following statement:

"In the event of the threatened extension of the stoppage of work, the government wishes to make it clear that they will use the fullest powers of the state to protect the workers who remain at work in any services essential to the life of the community."

The miners, it is learned, threw in the faces of the triple alliance leaders an argument contained in the manifesto issued by those leaders last week, charging the government and the owners with conspiracy to break up the trade unionist movement. The miners pointed out that the desertion of the railway men and the transport workers at this juncture would bring approximately this result, for the alliance was generally considered the most powerful industrial weapon of the trade unionists.

If the triple alliance is beaten the whole movement is beaten," was one of the contentions voiced.

One Member of Hungarian Cabinet Quit

BUDAPEST, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Gustavo Gratz, minister of foreign affairs is the only member of the Hungarian cabinet to resign as a result of the visit of former Emperor Charles of Hungary. The agrarian party has agreed to postpone the question of electing an occupant of the throne until foreign pressure ceases to be of influence in this country. Irritation is reported in Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia. It is asserted they are tired of maintaining an armed watch and there are indications they are preparing for joint action that will lay the ghost of the restoration of the Hapsburgs.

Messages were read from many notables, including former President Taft and Vice President Coolidge.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

Bishop Lawrence Deplores Clergymen Mixing Business With Holy Orders

BOSTON, April 13.—Bishop William Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Episcopal church today deplored the number of clergymen who were mixing business with holy orders to eke out a living. Their number was startling, he said, and the condition was one which he regarded as symptomatic of a let-down of the standards of high devotion, industry, self-sacrifice and efficiency. "The figure may be no greater than in other callings from which many men drop out," said the bishop. "But the priest of the church is consecrated to life service and if for good reasons he must drop out and take up another life work, should he not ask to be released from all official relations with the ministry and not allow his name to stand in the list?" "I know well that each man has his own reason and difficulties; but I believe that we should have such a spirit in the church, such an esprit de corps of the clergy that we should assume life consecration in active service."

The bishop said there was increasing danger of a commercialized ministry due in part to small salaries. A clergyman finding it impossible to live upon his salary, might be justified in retiring from the ministry and earning his living in some secular pursuit, he said. When such a man works six days a week in a secular pursuit

Mrs. C. A. Clough of 15 Dutton St. Lowell, Mass., Gives CINOT Credit for Helping Her Greatly—Says She Never Saw Anything Like It

Lowell is beginning, to find out that CINOT is what it is advertised to be and it will not be long until the fact of its great merit will be well known. Mrs. Clough says: "I had constipation and rheumatism and my digestion was very poor and appetite as bad. I would have blurry spots come before my eyes and would feel tired out and have no ambition."

"A friend of mine who had obtained wonderful results with CINOT advised me to try this herbal remedy and I started to use it. The very first dose really seemed to help me and as I proceeded with it, my improvement became very noticeable and today, after taking two bottles, I feel bet-and uses his Sundays to make more wage in the ministry, the bishop added, "he is claiming the privileges both of the business man and of the clergyman. Consistency would, it seems to me, move such a man make his choice between one or the other. The number of clergymen holding this double relation is on the increase throughout the church, and I believe that unless there is a bracing up of public sentiment, respect for Holy Orders will decline both in the church and in the business world."

The references by the bishop to this phase of the church problem followed a statement by him that the number of men joining the ministry showed an alarming decrease. He reported that 75 clergymen in the diocese had received increased salaries during the year.

Bishop Lawrence endorsed the proposal for reorganization of the administration of the diocese, saying there was no need for system in both its business and spiritual interests. Anticipating the report that a special committee is to make to the convention, he added:

"The bishop and council when formed will be the representative of the diocese chosen to serve all the parishes and give direction and leadership to our spiritual and material resources."

MEETING HOUSE STORE

Commission Asked Not to Allow Store in the Ministry-at-Large

Protesting that the building of the Ministry-at-Large on Middlesex street, "has for 50 years been consecrated to the worship of God," several local bodies last evening petitioned the license commission against granting a second-hand clothing store license to "the Goodwill Industries, Inc., a corporation organized by so-called," a corporation organized by the Methodist Episcopal churches of this city. Among those registering their protest against the action of the Methodist Episcopal churches, were the British-American social club, Gen. Fiske Lodge, I.O.G.T., Olympic soccer football club, Past Presidents Association, Daughters of St. George. The petition mentions that the Ministry-at-Large building has been "maintained for the poor of Lowell," and adds, "Wherefore do we protest against the opening of a store for the purpose of commercial gain in the Ministry-at-Large building and do request that the application of the Goodwill Industries, so-called, as above stated, be dismissed. The petition is signed as follows:

"British-American Social Club, George B. Marshall, President; Gen. Fiske Lodge, I.O.G.T., Nina E. Betts, Secretary; Olympic Soccer Club, Arnold Robinson, Secretary; Past Presidents Association, Daughters of St. George, Nora Marshall, Past President; For Congregation of Free Church, Agnes S. Atkinson."

The matter of granting the license to the Goodwill Industries was laid on the table until the board's next meeting, April 20, after it had been ascertained that representatives of the petitioners were not present to state the grounds of their request for a license. Those remonstrants who appeared agreed to this postponement. The Goodwill Industries, organized in this city several months ago by the Methodist congregations of Lowell, is at present conducting a store on Brookings street. The first case to come before the board was that of Oscar Albanian, who sought permission to conduct a confectionery and ice cream establishment on Central st. When it was shown that although the establishment has a police record, this was earned while the place

Mrs. Pulitzer Robbed in Paris

PARIS, April 13.—Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, widow of the American publisher and her companion, Miss Alice MacArow, were victims of a robbery on a train on its way from Cannes to Paris last night, says the continental edition of the Daily Mail. Miss MacArow awoke during the night and saw a man fumbling at her baggage. He fled, dropping a jewel case, but carrying with him a very valuable gold clock. Miss MacArow pursued him down the corridor of the car, but he escaped.

REPORTS ON WORK OF NEW ORGANIZATION

The principal feature of a meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell Goodwill Industries, Inc., in the Central church last evening, was the reading of a report on the activities of the organization by Rev. Joseph C. Beckes, minister of the church. During the meeting Rev. E. J. Helms of the Morgan Memorial, Boston, made a brief address and the name of Charles E. Drew was added to the list of directors.

Mr. Beckes' report was in part as follows:

"A brief statement of the general condition of affairs will not do justice to the splendid work that is being done in a building where one year ago there were 25 people of seven different nationalities living. The task of cleaning the house, remodeling the building, shaping an organization, arousing public sentiment and making the Goodwill Industries live has been occupying the attention and gripping the heart of more people than is usually suspected.

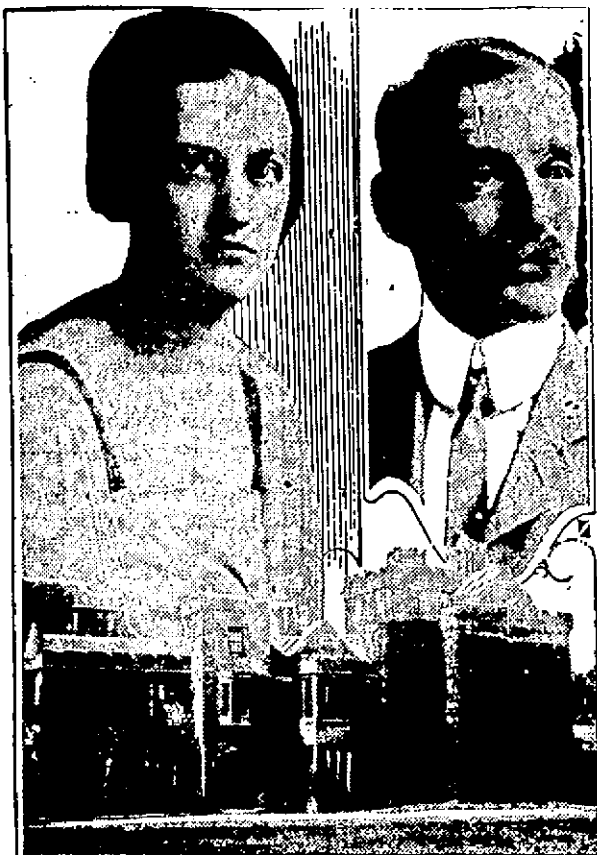

"The religious side is of primary interest and therefore treated first. Since Dec. 1, 1920, or since the inception of the work, morning prayers have been conducted by the people at work. These meetings have proved their own value and I venture that a popular vote of the workers tomorrow morning would be to continue this part of the day's work.

"Unemployment is one of the evils which the industries helps to meet. In all, 1296 days' work has been given to applicants at the office. Fifty-five different men and women have been employed, and almost without exception have proved worthy of confidence, sympathy and help. These 55 people have been paid $1613.85 in wages.

"The work has been departmentalized as far as possible, with the result that the following departments have emerged: The collecting is in charge of A. F. Adams and a capable assistant; Mrs. Margaret Pendergast has charge of the sorting; Miss Gladys Beesey is chief saleslady; Mrs. Lawson supervises the repair department; Mr. McKissock the furniture repair, and Mrs. Myra Marks the box making. The office and employment bureau, also the dormitory, is under the care of Miss M. M. Benson. Mrs. Lillian H. Hill has general supervision of sorting, stores and clothing repair, while Alan D. Beckes has nearly completed his training at Morgan Memorial, Boston, and will at that time become superintendent of the Lowell enterprise.

"There are at present in Lowell and vicinity 4752 bags holders; 777 bags, and 203 pieces of furniture have been collected. About one-half of the ma-

Family Wakes To Find Huge Feudal Castle on Its Hands

They were just plain American folk, living in a modest bungalow at Alameda, Cal., and then came the message from England that they had an ancient feudal castle on their hands—a huge 14th century castle, with walls seven feet thick, a 'family ghost' and everything. So John J. Culley, whose photo is shown in upper right, will move his little family to 'Castle Coupland.' Upper right is Miss Mary Culley, one of Culley's two pretty daughters, and below a photograph of the castle.

From a small Alameda, California, bungalow—to a vast Northumberland, England, feudal estate—with three thousand acres of English downs—hundreds of tenants—and even the proverbial ghosts and haunted room.

Such is the translation of John H. Culley of Alameda, Cal., after nearly 10 years' residence in the United States.

A short time ago the Right Reverend Monsignor Culley of Coupland Castle died. By right of inheritance, being the next in line of descent, the estate has now descended to John H. Culley, American, and his wife and two pretty young daughters.

Coupland Castle is in Northumberland, in the north of England, and is a regular, dyed-in-the-wool feudal castle. It was built in the 14th century as a protection against the robber barons and feudal lords of that day. It has walls seven feet thick, and today is remarkably well preserved.

The Misses Culley are delighted over the prospect of returning to the ancestral home and acres, and while Mrs. Culley accepts her position as supervisor over an English castle philosophically and complacently, she whimsically admits that she vastly prefers a California bungalow.

Culley is now in England arranging matters pertaining to the estate and preparing for the arrival of his wife and daughters, who are sailing to join him in the near future.

terial collected has been repaired and sold and the remainder is in carefully arranged bins ready for the larger demands that are all the time developing. The extent of this demand is shown by the fact that during the last week of January and the first of February the opening days of the Goodwill store, about 1100 worth of goods were sold. During the last two weeks of March more than four times that amount was purchased by a steady stream of customers.

"The newest department of the Industries is the cafeteria. This has been in operation less than a week. A meal of meat, potatoes, one vegetable, bread, butter and coffee is sold to employees and staff.

HARDING'S MESSAGE PLEASES G.O.P. LEADERS

WASHINGTON, April 13—(By the Associated Press)—General approval of President Harding's declarations in his first message to congress yesterday that the United States could have no part in the present League of Nations, and that state of war should be ended by congressional resolution was expressed by republican senate leaders, both of the "irreconcilable" and "reservationists" groups.

Senator Lodge, who led the long fight for reservations to the treaty of Versailles, said he was "extremely pleased" by the message, which he declared "separates us from the league and approves passage of the Knox resolution."

Senators Johnson of California and Borah of Idaho, leaders of the "irreconcilables," expressed gratification that the president had definitely rejected the present league and had declared for restoration of peace by congressional action. They expressed doubt, however, that the treaty of Versailles, with the league covenant excluded, could be put into shape for ratification—a possibility suggested by Mr. Harding.

CORSARO FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

LAWRENCE, April 13—Lavinia Corsaro, of this city, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury at a special session of the superior criminal court at 11 o'clock last night. The verdict was received by Judge Louis S. Cox, who presided at the trial and who will probably sentence Corsaro sometime later in the week.

Corsaro was found guilty of the murder of Mike Laroitino on January 24, 1920, following an argument in a poolroom on Elm street. The trial started a week ago Monday and the commonwealth was represented by District Attorney S. Howard Donnell, while the defendant was represented by Attorneys John P. Kane and Angelo G. Roca. The defense pleaded that Corsaro shot in self-defense.

MAN WALKING IN SLEEP SHOT IN BACK

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 13—William Gagne of 53 Pearl street; over-seas veteran, lies mortally wounded in the Notre Dame hospital with three bullets in his back, believed to have been fired from a revolver in the hands of Officer Harold Leavitt of the Manchester police department early yesterday morning while Gagne was sleep walking.

The man was rushed to the hospital at 6 o'clock by Dr. J. E. Laroitello and the first intimation the police had of the shooting was at 1:30 yesterday afternoon when the landlady who conducts a boarding house at 53 Pearl street notified them by telephone.

Gagne raced back and forth and up Pearl street, ignoring the commands of Officer Leavitt to halt. The patrolman opened fire and emptied his revolver at the fleeing man. He had no idea he hit him and he and Officer Scannell searched every conceivable inch of the territory in the vicinity of the shooting without finding any trace of him.

About 30 members of the Perry Mible class of St. Paul's M. E. church attended the regular meeting of the class, which was held last evening. Later a social hour was enjoyed during which entertainment numbers were given by the class orchestra, Mrs. Freda Light and others. Games were played and refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Charles Spring and Mrs. Edwin Jenkins.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS
The regular meeting of Walker Rogers post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held last evening in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, with Commander George D. Crowell in the chair. Routine business was transacted, date of the installation of officers was set as April 26 and the following appointments were made by the commander: Carroll Plunger, patriotic instructor; William C. Kirk, post historian; Raymond W. Slater, adjutant; J. Victor Rogers and Arthur S. Carville, color bearers; William Robinson, guard and James J. Manning, sentinel.

BON MARCHE CLERKS HOLD ANNUAL PARTY

Associate hall assumed a carnival air last evening when some of the most elaborate decorations perhaps ever seen there were a feature of the Bon Marche Dry Goods company clerks' mutual benefit association annual party.

Several hundred couples were present, and dancing continued until midnight. President Morton M. Walker of the association was in general charge of the affair, assisted by General Manager John H. Foley; assistant general manager, Elizabeth Hennessey; floor director, John McInerney; assistant floor director, Florence Gallagher; and treasurer, Francis Pare. A. Samuel Lemieux, window dresser of the Bon Marche company, created the decorative scheme, which had a charming old-world atmosphere. Old-fashioned lamps, swinging from iron brackets, huge baskets filled with flowers, plants and vines, and stream-

MAN WHO SLEEPS UNDER TREE AN ORNITHOLOGIST

NEW YORK, April 13—An elderly man in tattered cap and suit sat motionless under a tree at 25th street and Broadway when a mounted patrolman, informed that a queer stranger had been sleeping there three days, approached.

"I'm interested in birds," the old man said, "particularly in the domestic affairs of the pair of robins above us. I have enjoyed their acquaintance three seasons."

He launched then into the story of a row that was being waged in the nest, the result of the laying there of a cuckoo's egg. "The male bird wanted to throw it out but the female

TO RUN LODGING HOUSE IN PLANT

BOSTON, April 13—A license to conduct a lodging house in its plant on Broad street was granted yesterday to the Southgate Press, one of the firms involved in a printing trades strike here. The attention of the health authorities had been called to the fact that a number of workers were eating and sleeping at the plant and Monday Health Commissioner Woodward notified the company that a license must be procured if the practice was to continue. The permit was issued with the approval of both police and health officers.

SIMPLE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS
There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.
To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the face with water and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the face without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pimples and eruptions only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

BIG LEAGUE SEASON ON NEW RECORDS MADE

Opening Games Played in Eight Cities Today—Braves at Home With Dodgers

NEW YORK, April 13.—Amid ceremonies and decorations which have become a fixed feature of the annual event of 1921 opened today on the circuit of the National and American leagues. Incomparable by the flare of the bands, the snapping of flags and the wined toss by city or government officials, selected to throw out the first ball of the year, the players of 16 teams will dash away on their six month pursuit of pennants, the winning of which entitles the victors to battle in the world's series, the pinnacle of baseball.

Each April within the memory of the past four generations similar scenes have been enacted without losing any part of their thrill or attractiveness and today baseball parks will be thronged with the same enthusiastic fans who have witnessed the opening games of past years. Following the world war the popularity of baseball has increased to such a point that the opening of the season has become a fervor, little anticipated by either player or manager and there is little indication that the national game has reached the zenith of its life.

Record-breaking crowds have witnessed the various exhibition games during the southern training trips and advance sales of seats for today's initial big contests clearly indicate that the baseball fan has increased in number since that October day when the Cleveland Americans threw the curtain across the scene wherein the Brooklyn Nationals fell before the prowess of this speaker and his brigade of Indian warriors. Despite the many changes in both the playing personnel and managers of clubs, baseball authorities look forward to another banner year in interest, attendance and closeness of the pennant races.

Baseball has become an institution in this country for the history of the National League dates back to 1876 and today's games will mark the opening of the 45th season of the American League. The American League's first pennant in 1906, the American League contests will inaugurate the junior association's 25th season.

During the period of 45 years in which various teams have fought for National League pennants, there have been 11 eastern cities still identified with the organization have won 23 championships while western clubs have captured 15. Chicago leads with 11 pennants, Boston is second with nine and New York third with eight. In the American League Boston and Philadelphia have each won six pennants, while the east a total of 12 while the western clubs have accumulated nine for Chicago, three for Detroit and two for Cleveland.

Today's opening games are:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn at Boston.
New York at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
St. Louis at Chicago.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Cleveland at St. Louis.
Chicago at Detroit.
Philadelphia at New York.
Boston at Washington.

ALL STAR BOXING CARD FOR C. A. A. COMPLETED

The matchmaker of the Crescent A.A. has completed his all star card for tomorrow night's meeting, and the program is one that should furnish abundant action.

Johnny Noonan of Dorchester, who defeated Billy Myers of Boston in the main bout of 10 rounds at Salem on Saturday night, is expected to meet George Brooks of Lowell in one of the events. In landing Noonan the matchmaker feels that he made a tenacious as reports of his Salem setback indicate that he is in the form. Brooks has been training diligently for several weeks and those who have seen him in action aver that he is in great condition.

Woonsocket Joe Gibbs has signed up to meet Johnny Avila of Lowell in another one of the 10-round events. This contest is expected to be a real hard hitting and aggressive battling.

Jimmy Grifley of Lawrence, always a satisfactory performer, will meet Johnny Sheppard of Woburn in the other 10-round event.

C. M. A. C. Bowling League Celebrates Closing of Successful Ten-Pin Season

Inasmuch as the C.M.A.C. has now over 1300 members in good standing and that the membership roll is being increased every week, the association will have to do one of two things, enlarge its present quarters, or find a site for the erection of a larger building. This was brought out by the chairman of the association, Rev. L. S. Bachand, O.M.I., at the banquet of the C.M.A.C. Bowling League, which was held in the assembly hall of the club last evening. The speaker also predicted that within a few years the membership of the club will be over 3500, stating that the clean, wholesome sports conducted by the club are incentive to young men to join in the course of his remarks. Rev. Fr. Bachand congratulated the members for the success achieved in the bowling contest which was held during the winter months and he predicted a very successful season for the baseball team, which is now in the formation. He also referred to basketball and other sports and urged the members to keep up these games, he said, not only developed the physical condition of those who participate in them but also assist materially in the training of the mind.

The banquet was held as a closing feature of a very successful bowling season, and the festivities were attended by members of the league and friends. A substantial supper was served at 8 o'clock and when the needs of inner man had been attended to, J. A. N. Chretien, president of the C.M.A.C. and chairman of the league committee, opened the post-prandial exercises with a brief address of welcome and introduced as the toastmaster of the evening, Dr. George E. Caisse, whom he referred to as the father of bowling at the C.M.A.C. It was the doctor who first broached the subject of installing bowling alleys in the building and it was mainly through his efforts that the thing was accomplished.

Dr. Caisse, who has been a member of the C.M.A.C. for a great many years, briefly reviewed the progress made by the association and commented on the fact that its membership has increased to over 1300. He referred to the society as second to none of its kind in the state, and said it is recognized by state officials as a sound and safe fraternal organization. The doctor extended his felicitations to the officers and members and said a tribute to the fathers of St. Joseph's, whose assistance has helped materially in the advancement of the organization. He then reviewed the work of the league during the past season, complimenting the winners and giving some advice to those who were less fortunate.

Rev. Guillaume Goulette, O.M.I., a former champion of the association, also addressed the gathering at length, explaining the value of clean sports and the benefits to be derived from such amusements, and concluded by saying that in his opinion good sports mean a clean mind.

In the course of the evening enjoyable numbers were given by the Emerson quartet, four local singers, who were accompanied on the piano by Albert Goulette. The quartet is composed of Messrs. Harvey, Caron, Goulette and Tessier. Arthur G. Leveille also entertained with songs. The evening's festivities were brought to a close with the distribution of prizes as follows:

Team prizes—First, Team 5, Capt. Gustave Fortier; second, Team 3, Capt. Raoul Pelletier; third, Team 1, Capt. Hervé Gosselin; fourth, Team 4, Capt. Joseph Gosselin; fifth, Team 2, Capt. Napoleon Breton; and sixth, Team 6, Capt. D. Champagne. Three-string totals, first, Team 1; second, Team 5; third, Team 3; fourth, Team 4; and fifth, Team 2. Highest individual average, first, J. Z. Lebrun; second, Donat Champagne; third, G. Fortier; fourth, Tancrède Blanchette; and fifth, Hervé Gosselin. Highest single-string average, first, Joseph Douchette; second, Larry Boule; and third, J. A. N. Chretien. Highest three strings, first, R. Pelletier; second, Edouard Beausoleil; and third, Robert Chapdelaine. All these prizes were cash amounts. The booby, a handsome $5 pipe donated by Thomas Fitzgerald, went to Philippe Morin.

Bowling League Officers
The league officers are as follows: J. A. N. Chretien, chairman; Arthur Gosselin, secretary; Donat Champagne, treasurer; Joseph Gosselin, assistant; and Tancrède Blanchette.

The banquet committee consisted of Joseph Gosselin, Les Beaulieu, Larry Boule and J. A. N. Chretien. Seated at the head table were J. A. N. Chretien, Dr. G. E. Caisse, Rev. L. S. Bachand, O.M.I., Rev. Guillaume Goulette, O.M.I., Joseph A. Desrosiers, E. Gaston Campbell, Joseph Gosselin, Larry Boule and Arthur G. Leveille.

Bowling Results
The standing of the teams of the C.M.A.C. Bowling League at the end of the season, individual prize winners, averages, etc., were as follows:

"HE'S OUT."

MOTHER
"You stay downtown tonight to eat.
For I'll be back in 10 to meet.
I can't get through with it
And then rush home to cook and bake."
You well can believe that didn't make A HIT!

STOCKKEEPER
"I'm out to lunch. Don't back at 4."
That's what he hung. Then locked the store.
And what about the price?
He thinks that he was well repaid.
He'd laugh if told that he had made A SACRIFICE!

GRANDPA
"Say, mam, scum's like I'm feeling spry
Enough this afternoon to try
A stroll in the park.
My rheumatism's so need to look
To find the path where grandpa took I'll be back!" A WALK!

CITY HALL
No work today at city hall.
The mayor, the janitor, and all Dispense with talk.
And leave their calling and their dust
Without an alibi. IT'S JUST A BALK!

PREACHER
"There's something on my mind today,
The sermon just won't come my way.
I need a rest, that's all.
I need some pep to get my poles.
I know! I'll go to see the boys PLAY BALL!"

WHALERS GET THE JUMP
Win First Game of Inter-City Series, 6 to 5—Dugan and Davies Star

The New Bedford Whalers, champions of the American Roller Polo League, won the first game in the Inter-city series with the Lowell club at the Crescent rink last night by the score of 6 to 5 with a large and enthusiastic crowd looking on.

The game was a hammer all the way with the winner in doubt right up until the final blast of the horn. The first and final periods were especially exciting, but New Bedford got the jump in the second session, and as a result went to the wire in front.

While not generally known to the fans, there came near to being a game. The visitors came to play with Frank Hardy in place of Van Gardner. They said Gardner was ill and unable to play. In "drafting" Hardy the team added strength, and after considerable wrangling, Captain Quigley finally agreed to let Hardy play last night, but insisted that he will not appear in the remaining games of the series.

Lowell played a fine game in the face of great odds. Hardy's presence in the Champions' lineup made the team one of the most formidable ever seen here. In the first period the Whalers, led by the locals kept plugging all the way and forced the visitors to the limit to hold them in check.

Lowell gave the locals a good start by getting two as play got underway. Dugan and Wiley followed with a brace and the period ended in a tie. In the second stanza Bill Dugan ran with the puck and after a few minutes of surface and after Davies had scored once or twice, the speedy and dashing Dugan hammered through four in a row, giving the Whalers a 6 to 3 lead as the period ended.

Lowell went into the third session with determination and turned in a classy exhibition of polo. Davies, who had scored all the goals, added two more, putting Lowell ahead 8 to 2. At this point New Bedford began to stall and play a strictly defensive game, being content to hold the lead of one net. Dufresne, a Jack and Jettie tightened up like a cat, and Lowell was unable to penetrate their defense. The lineup and scores:

ADAMS AND HARRIS CLASH

Spirited Meeting Before Ways and Means Committee at State House

President of Lowell Association Criticizes State Fish and Game Administration

Plan to Quadruple Fees for Hunting and Fishing Licenses, Opposed

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 13.—A spirited clash between Lowell B. Harris, president of the Lowell Fish and Game club and William C. Adams, director of the division of fisheries and game in the state department of conservation, marked yesterday's hearing before the ways and means committee of the house on the proposal that the fees for licenses to hunt and fish in this state be quadrupled.

Mr. Harris declared that the present administration of the fish and game activities of the state is not up to par, citing as an instance of its lack of efficiency the fact that the fishway at Pawtucket falls, ordered by the legislature of 1918, is not yet even begun while that of Lawrence, ordered at the same time, has only recently been completed.

Mr. Adams replied by stating that he had sent to Mr. Harris, as president of the Lowell club, Monday night a statement of his views with regard to the fishways. Mr. Harris, however, announced that he did not receive Mr. Adams' communication before leaving Lowell Tuesday morning to attend the hearing.

Before the committee there is a bill providing that a fishing license shall hereafter cost $2, instead of 50 cents as at present; a hunting license is to cost $2 also, making the cost to one who desires to fish and hunt $4, instead of the present fee of $1.

Mr. Adams declared that the proposed charges are entirely reasonable. "Take the hunting license, for example," he said, "this bill makes it cost less than the price of a single theatre ticket, and yet it gives the holder nine months of pleasure, while in actual value it will return to him in the meat of game, if he is any kind of a hunter, far more than the cost of the license. And it is the same with the fishing license."

"Then there is another point; the strain to which our life has been subjected in recent years must be relieved in some way. It is no use attempting to deny the facts; we must admit that our protective laws are not being adequately enforced. We have 30 wardens, and each one has an average of 115 square miles to cover. Between them they have five Ford automobiles to cover the territory. Each man is allowed a maximum expense account of $11 per month, $1 per day. Just think of trying to enforce the game laws in southern Berkshire county, where there are no railroads and no street cars, upon an allowance of $1 per day for expenses. We have 950 great ponds in the state, and 4000 miles of streams suitable for fish culture. We are expending $40,000 on the job and of course we are not even scratching the surface. Of course the sportsmen are kicking because their game and their fishing are being depleted. They have either got to stop kicking or pay more freight."

A member of the committee expressed the fear that in the pending bill the license fee was put so high that the "poor country boy" might not be able to obtain one. This stirred Mr. Adams noticeably, and he replied:

"I'm going to tell you about that 'poor country boy.' For the past two or three years, we have been having it mighty soft. He has been getting 15 per cent for the skin he has been able to trap, and when you and I were kids we thought ourselves mighty lucky if we got 10 cents. I think it would do that boy a lot of good if he had to get out and sweat blood to earn the money for his license for the privilege of appreciating it, and appreciating the efforts the state is making to preserve the game for his pleasure and profit. But at present the license fee is so low that he looks upon it as just a formality, and he is apt to destroy as much as he takes for profit. Then there are a lot of them who don't care anything about the law anyway. I could stand here for an hour and tell you about violations of the law, by

The board of health has been notified of a case of dog bite in which the victim was Harold Given, 24, of 329 Walker street, who was bitten Sunday on the left leg by a dog said to be owned by Charles McCarthy, 414 Walker street. Dr. Walter A. Sherman, animal inspector, and the state health authorities have been notified.

men whom you look upon as the pillars of society."

Lowell Men Speak

Sirion B. Harris, president of the Lowell Fish and Game association, was the principal opponent of the increased fees, although a large number of sportsmen's clubs in western Massachusetts had sent to the committee telegrams expressing their opposition.

He said the colonists decreed that fishing should be free, and it was always free in this state until a one-man administration came into power in connection with the fish and game activities of the state. Some years ago hunters were required to obtain a license for identification purposes, and that was perfectly proper, as it was desirable that men going into the woods armed with a dangerous weapon should be known, but fishing, he insisted, is an innocent pastime which should be free. "The disciples of the savior," he said, "were fishermen, but this bill had been a law then they had money with which to pay the fee."

The public, he said, owns the ponds and streams just as much as it owns the public libraries, and if a license is to be required for using the one, there is no reason why it should not be required for using the other.

Dr. Clarence B. Livingston, vice president of the same association, said the fishing has been growing worse, notwithstanding the increased fees charged. "If they jump the fee 400 per cent, as this bill provides," he said, "heaven only knows how poor the fishing will be next year." He also criticized the administration of the department, particularly for its failure to put into effect the legislation of 1918 requiring fishways in the Merrimack river. He declared that recently a man has been hundreds of feet attempting to get up over the falls at Lowell, there being several with their lines torn out by being thrown back on the sharp rocks.

While S. Holt, secretary of the association, pointed out that under the provision of the bill, there is no guarantee that the additional revenue received from increased fees will be used for the work of the department. The committee took the matter under advisement.

The Lining of Your Throat

The lining of your throat is a starting point of many of your troubles. It is here that colds develop. It is here that inflammation sets in and coughs, which spread to the bronchial tubes, originate.

Science has discovered certain elements which act directly upon the lining of the throat and air passages, soothing and healing the irritation and helping nature to restore normal health.

These elements are contained in Father John's Medicine, prepared in just such a way that they are easily taken up by the system and promptly become effective.

This is one of the reasons why Father John's Medicine has a history of more than 65 years' success in the treatment of coughs, colds and similar troubles.—Adv.
